COOL WEATHER PROVES AID TO VISITING WARRIORS

'Chick' Meehan Asserts He Will Hand Defeat to Southern Squad

Football fans who are anxious regarding weather conditions Saturday when University of Southern California meets the Syracuse university team need not be alarmed over the possibility of rain, according to reports from weather bureau officials today. The forecast points to clear, cool weather—ideal football conditions—for Saturday. The storm headed south from the northwest has passed the stage where it harbors any danger of interference with the game before the time for the kick-off, say the weather prognosticators.

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—"Ain't it good!" It was Coach "Chick" Meehan speaking here today as he stuck his head out of a window of the hotel which happens to house Pola Negri as well as Meehan's twenty-four Syracuse university football players, who clash here tomorrow with University of Southern California in the first of a violent epidemic of post-season international tilts.

Mr. Meehan referred to the weather, not the beautiful motion picture actress. The day was almost cold and the weather man had his "cool and cloudy" prediction out in the fog. All of California's glorious sunshine was shrouded in a mist that entirely hid Dead Man's island in Los Angeles harbor, as well as the city's highly press agented fruits and flowers.

"If it stays this way my team will make this California bunch think they met up with a hard winter," the close mouthed Syra-

WEALTHY ORPHAN GIVES UP GHOST

Fiancee's Bedside Vigil See Young Millionaire Sweetheart Die

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Details of a forty-eight-hour vigil beside the death bed of her fiancee, William Nelson McClintock, the "millionaire orphan" became known here today as Miss Isabelle Pope, Northwestern university sophomore, returned to her home to lock herself in her room with a marriage license—now never to be used.

The long wait in the still room where McClintock lay fighting for life and love—a wait during which she was companioned by a clergyman kept there to administer the comfort of the church to the dying or perform a marriage service—ended last night when young McClintock, who left Dartmouth college that he might be near her, succumbed to typhoid fever.

"I think I'm going," the young man had whispered in his last moment of consciousness. "If only we could have been married first."

McClintock's sobriquet, "The Millionaire Orphan," came when his parents died, two years apart, leaving him when aged 7 with a fortune estimated at $6,000,000.

Governor Not Committed to Road Project

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—In a statment intimating that he might recommend discontinuance of all new road construction for two years "so as to let the continued agitation for pork barrel roads die out," Governor Friend W. Richardson today declared he had not adopted definitely any highway program and was not committed to any means of financing new construction work.

There are two courses open, asserted the governor. One is to halt construction for the coming two years, and the other would be to raise by ad valorem tax, a bond issue or by a gas tax or some other means, to finance new work.

The governor added that "it is my purpose to heed the will of the people."

JAPS INVITE U. S. ARMS CONFERENCE

Foreign Office Announces Such Action Would Be Welcomed by Them

TOKIO, Dec. 5.—Japan will look with sympathy and welcome any suggestions dealing with disarmament from the United States government, according to information from the Japanese foreign office today.

The foreign office further reported the Japanese government has never officially discussed the empire's policy in regard to a second arms conference except for the one consideration of a friendly attitude toward a proposal for such a conference coming from Washington.

No Cabinet Action

There has been no Japanese cabinet action in regard to any conference, however, officials said. Reports that Japan intends to pursue any fixed policy in this connection, are premature, the foreign office emphasized.

It is the belief in unofficial Japanese quarters, however, that France's opposition to limitation of auxiliary warcraft remains yet unchanged and that this French attitude which has already delayed the calling of a second arms meeting would make doubtful the success such a world conference might have.

COOLIDGE FOR PROGRAM OF REDUCTION

President Is Sure of Niche In History as Result Of Economy Plans

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Coolidge's place in American history will be made on at least one achievement if he gets the co-operation of congress, namely economy. He may yet be known as the most economical president the country has ever had.

The word "economy" occurs again and again in his annual message to Congress. He emphasizes it, reiterates it and drives it home as the transcendent issue of the hour. Tax reduction, prosperity and the general welfare all depend upon it.

Briefly, the surplus indicated for the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, is about $67,000,000. Mr. Coolidge thinks this is too narrow a margin above receipts to undertake tax reduction, but it is only an estimate and he hints that if Congress doesn't spend any more and revenues increase due to better business conditions, a program of tax reduction will be presented.

He carefully refrains from saying when and leaves the door open to the summoning of a special session before next December if that should be required.

Distinction Made

The president draws a distinction between "tax reduction" and "tax reform" and says that Congress can go ahead with all the latter it likes when the operations of the present law are better known. By this he means a revision of surtaxes downward and the removal of inequities in the tax system itself.

Pointing out that "our domestic problems are for the most part economic," there is a constant reference to dollars and cents through practically all the recommendations made by the president. He appreciates that agriculture is

THREE CAUSES BLAMED FOR ACCIDENTS

Motor Manufacturer Says Driver, Pedestrian and Maker to Blame

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Responsibility for traffic accidents, like all Gaul, now is divided into three parts, according to A. B. D. Hardy, president of the Olds Motor Works and vice-president of the General Motors corporation. The most careful driver, he said today, is never safe from danger of injuring the careless pedestrian and the most careful pedestian is never safe from the careless motorists. Neither is safe if the automobile manufacturer has been careless.

"What we are aiming at," he continued, "is real co-operation from everyone concerned in the production and operation of motor vehicles. The maker, the driver and the walker all are responsible and public safety depends on how their responsibilities are assumed. The automobile maker owes it to himself, as well as the public, to see that his product is strong, that it can be stopped promptly and that due notice is given of its approach day or night. Increased factors of safety, improved brakes and dependable lights and signals have come to be the rule in automobile manufacture.

Driver's Role

"The driver owes it to himself to have control at all times. He must know his brakes are working and have more interest in them than in his accelerator. Nowadays the average driver is sane, knows the distance in which he can stop his car and keeps within the speed called for by conditions.

"The pedestrian owes it to himself to walk alertly and to observe traffic regulations, remembering few accidents occur in traffic in which the pedestrian is wholly free from blame. Training to that end should begin with a

HOOVER QUITS LEGISLATION ON RADIO

Regulatory Laws at This Time Dangerous, Says Cabinet Official

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Virtual withdrawal of the support of Secretary of Commerce Hoover to any radio legislation at the present session of Congress was announced today.

Although a strong advocate of the White radio bill at the last session, Hoover now regards development of the radio art as progressing so rapidly that drastic regulatory legislation at this time would be dangerous.

Secretary Hoover dispatched his recommendations relative to radio to Representative White, Republican of Maine, chairman of the marine and fisheries committee, today.

Go Slow, Says Hoover

He urged that the committee go slow on radio legislation until the industry's development has reached a more even plane and until changes in broadcasting practices are less likely.

From members of the marine and fisheries committee, which has charge of radio legislation in the House, it was learned there is opposition to Hoover's new position. Some members wanted to appeal directly to the president to get the administration support to the White bill which was presented at the last session of Congress.

Compromise Measure

Representative White, while understood to have no objection to a compromise bill, stands for the adoption of some variety of radio legislation before the curtain drops on the Sixty-eighth Congress.

The government is now operating under a radio bill passed in 1912 which is obsolete. Hoover is virtually dictator over radio. However, committee members say the "dictatorship" might fall into

Interstate Commerce Reports to Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Interstate Commerce commission failed to undertake general investigation of freight rates in 1924 because this would have unsettled business and commercial conditions, the commission reported to Congress. It was the judgment of the commission that progress toward standardization of rates could better be brought about through individual cases. Railroad earnings, the report said, have recently been less than $1,000,000,000, a return of 5¾ per cent upon fair values not being received by the roads.

Woman As Governor

Perhaps---And Then Perhaps Not

What Citizens Say

A woman—maybe several of 'em—will be a candidate for governor at the next state election, according to political gossip. A number of names are being "mentioned." Women have been chosen governor of Texas and Wyoming, why not California? Anyway, that's what many women—and some men—are saying. An inquiring reporter for The Glendale Evening News questioned a number of Glendale people—both men and women—as to their views, and here's the result:

MRS. DANIEL CAMPBELL, Prominent Clubwoman—God has endowed woman with brains and ability, as well as man, but if she were elected governor of California she would have to live down a jealous prejudice men have against her. Woman was given as a helpmate, and I feel that a good man with a good, Christian woman back of him can do as much as a woman can.

LIEUTENANT W. J. ROYLE, of the Detective Bureau, Glendale Police Department—California is too big a proposition to be run by a woman.

D. RIPLEY JACKSON, Glendale Postmaster—That's too ticklish a problem for me to rush into in a hurry. Nothing doing!

JUDGE FRANK H. LOWE, of the Glendale Police Court—I would be heartily in favor of a woman governor of California, provided I might have the honor of naming the candidate.

M. B. TOWMAN, Secretary of the Glendale Office, Automobile Club of Southern California—That's a fine question to ask a bachelor.

MRS. FRANK W. PARR, President of Glendale College Women's Club—Being governor is not beyond a woman's power, but I think there is a question as to whether California has reached the right time for a woman to become its chief executive.

GEORGE HALLETT, Glendale Assistant Postmaster—I don't know why a woman governor wouldn't work as well in California as in Texas. There are surely some women who could fill the office better than many men. Women are more humane and would not be so inclined to play politics.

VIRGIL B. STONE, City Manager—I am absolutely non-committal on political subjects. I have to be—I'm married!

MRS. O. H. SPRADLING, President Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher Association—I don't think a woman could do it. She lacks experience in politics. Of course much depends on personality.

CHIEF JOHN D. FRASER, of the Glendale Police Department—The average woman, NO!—but there is always the exception, the woman who can deal with men at a man's game, without expecting deference just because she is a woman. That kind I would vote for.

LLOYD A. GOMES, Glendale Postoffice Information Clerk—I can't see as some folks do. I guess I would be old fashioned and behind the times if I didn't fall in line and pull for a woman gubernatorial candidate, however.

MRS. M. L. TIGHT, Prominent Woman Realtor—I'm mighty glad to hear a woman candidate is going to run for governor—but I feel sorry for her. Why? Because it's so much trouble, not running for governor but running the state after she gets elected, which of course she will if she runs.

FRANK PILLING, Secretary Merchants' Association—I have an idea Texas and Wyoming will have good clean-cut administrations during the coming four years. There won't be any frills or extra expenses such as might occur under the regime of a man.

MRS. JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., Prominent Clubwoman—I'm very strongly in favor of men. The women aren't ready yet to take the reins of California. But, of course, it also depends on the man who is running. There is only one woman in this state I'd vote for, and that is Mrs. Charles Vandewater of Long Beach.

C. A. REDMOND, Union Pacific Agent—I haven't been very much in favor of these women governors. I've always been inclined toward a high hat, but maybe I'm wrong, I was once.

MIKE KAUFMAN, Glendale Musician—I'd be kind of skeptical of a woman governor. It's like everything else, though, I guess, if we'd get a broad minded woman in the office everything would be jake.

MRS. H. S. MACORMACK, Prominent Clubwoman—I think a woman could be governor as well as a man. From what I have observed in my years of work with women I feel there are women capable of holding and filling such an office.

A. J. VAN WIE, City Clerk—I'd vote for a woman candidate for governor.

CHIEF A. H. LANKFORD, of the Glendale Fire Department—A fellow would have to see the candidate first, wouldn't he, before he would know whether to vote for her?

MRS. J. H. TOAL, President of Women's Athletic Club—It is bound to come. I think a woman can do anything she makes up her mind to do. If she were well qualified, she could fill the office as well as a man.

H. C. SAULSBERRY, City Controller—I will not express an opinion on the subject.

LESLIE R. TARR, City Prosecutor—We already have women governors-elect—Texas and Wyoming. Women are displaying more interest in politics than men. It is a sign of the times. I am in favor of competent women in politics.

MRS. W. E. EVANS, Prominent Clubwoman—I think that California has a great many splendid women, women who have demonstrated themselves capable of leadership. But I feel it would be a mistake for California women to start out with a women's party. Women can co-operate with men in politics, and they can greatly benefit existing conditions. When they get into competition with men they kill their effectiveness. Co-operation, instead of competition is what we should have. We should never sanction a women's party.

RAY L. MORROW, City Attorney—It doesn't make a darned bit of difference to me.

PETER DIEDERICH, Superintendent of Plant and Production—I have plenty to do supplying light and water to the people of Glendale without mixing in political controversy.

SERGEANT C. P. BLAKE, of the Glendale Police Department—We might as well have a woman governor as a man. What's the use of arguing? Let the voters decide.

GEORGE B. KARR, President of Community Service—Let her run! All power to the ladies!

R. E. JOHNSTON, President of the Exchange Club—It's all right with me.

DANIEL CAMPBELL, President of the Community Savings & Commercial Bank—She hasn't the ghost of a chance.

MRS. HARRY GREENWALT, President of Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale—I certainly do feel a woman could be governor of California. I think we are coming to it.

MRS. DANIEL CAMPBELL, Prominent Club Woman—She has every chance in the world!

L. H. WILSON, Chairman of the Park Board—The governorship of California is not a woman's job.

C. B. MURPHY, of the Tropico Potteries—There are enough women in California to elect her, if they would all vote for her.

DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON, Attorney and Former Glendale Councilman—The federal constitution gives women the right of suffrage. If a woman is capable of running California, she ought to have the chance to do so.

C. W. INGLEDUE, President of the Glendale Improvement Association—I am not for it.

MRS. ROY BALLAGH, President Glendale Art Association—Women have just as clear brains and much more intuition than

STRIFE RULES MEETING ON LIGHTING

Charges, Counter Charges Hurled When R. Belcher "Usurps Authority"

A rough sea and threatening storm prevailed for an hour and a half last night while a mass meeting of some half-hundred Colorado street property owners was in progress at the Harvard High school auditorium. Besides the Colorado street folk, Councilman Sam A. Davis, advocate of city-made light standards, was present, and was the storm center during much of the session.

The storm first broke when, after the audience had waited patiently for more than half an hour for officers of the Colorado Street Improvement association to put in an appearance, R. Belcher proceeded to the front of the hall and endeavored to bring the meeting to order.

M. G. Khodigian immediately sprang to his feet with the charge that the officers of the association had not called the meeting, and that his name was used in connection with the call, made through the newspaper, without his permission. Some one else reinforced the stand of Mr. Khodigian with the assertion that "one man whose name was attached to the call had been in San Francisco for some time." With this the fireworks were off. Mr. Khodigian wanted it understood that he had nothing to do with the calling of the meeting, and that he would not be responsible for the outcome. Shouts of "sit down," and an invitation from Mr. Belcher to "go home if he wished to," silenced Mr. Khodigian.

Belcher Presides

"President J. M. Boland pleaded with me for two hours last Tuesday, trying to get me not to call this meeting," Mr. Belcher said, "but I refused to listen."

When it was definitely settled that the president had not called the meeting, but, on the contrary, had frowned upon it, and it became quite evident that neither he nor any of the other officers were going to show up, it was decided to continue the session as a mass meeting of Colorado street property owners, and not as an official association affair. Accordingly, Russell Graham was named secretary pro tem, with Mr. Belcher presiding.

Chairman Belcher brought up the matter of the proposed bridge across the Los Angeles river at Colorado street. A committee was named consisting of Dr. W. E. McGill, C. P. Haskins and Mr. Belcher, to take the bridge matter up with the Los Angeles council, in spite of the protest from Councilman Davis that such action at present would be futile.

"Monkeying with it now will just gum up the works. They aren't going to put that bridge in

Daily Greeting to News Readers

THERE ARE MANY TIMES—
When patience is more noble than conflict.
When congratulating the successful is more difficult than helping the unfortunate.
When economy is an extravagance.
When tolerance becomes mere moral laziness.
When a soft answer accomplishes more than hard words.
When the man, called conceited, is simply one who is sure of himself.
When doing an unpleasant duty is easier than facing an uneasy conscience.

EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE

Every man to his trade is a lesson we have been long in learning. We put men into office who have qualifications for anything but what they will be expected to do. There is considerable objection in some quarters to Andrew Mellon being Secretary of the Treasury because he is a wealthy man. He has managed his own finances well and it is to be assured that he can do the same for the federal government. Why should a man who has not been able to make a success of his own affairs be eligible to such a position?

Secretary of State Hughes, two years ago, made the suggestion that successful business men would be more able than diplomats in straightening out the financial tangles of Europe, and his suggestion culminated in the appointment of a commission of experts who formulated the "Dawes plan" for Europe. Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles, who was a member of that commission, said in a speech the other day that since commercial instead of political formulae have been established the problems of the world may be met in a different spirit than in the past, and they can be met satisfactorily. He also stated that the Dawes plan would mean increased markets for eleven nations.

And now that the Dawes reparations plan promises to work out satisfactorily, the Chinese foreign minister favors the calling of a commission to formulate a similar plan for China. Business men rather than diplomats should work out business problems, he believes.

LEAVE IT TO THE JURY

A syndicate writer who appears to be all-wise, commenting upon the horrible death of Mrs. Sheatsley, says: "The Sheatsley family of Columbus, Ohio, is in a very bad position. The members of it stand tacitly accused of the murder of the wife and mother. Not one of the lot has, since the crime, acted in a way that would seem natural on the part of a well-poised individual with a clear conscience."

This writer has virtually tried the Sheatsley family and found all the members guilty. It may turn out that he is right, but trying of such cases in the newspapers is becoming all too frequent. It must be remembered that all people do not conduct themselves in the same manner under the same circumstances, and as for the Sheatsley family not being well-poised, it has seemed to some that they are too well poised. In such a case it is only fair for the newspapers and the public to wait until all the evidence is in before rendering a verdict.

In the case of the Alhambra banker who was murdered, the young woman whoc laims to have been his sweetheart and the man who was with her on the night of the murder may know something about the crime, but they have a right to a trial before a verdict is rendered.

RELIGION IN RUSSIA

Captain Francis McCullagh, said to know more about Russia from the inside than any other living authority, is in this country to lecture. He states that religious bodies in this country who rty to work with and for the Soviet government are committing sacrilege, for the Soviet leaders have for their motto, "Religion is the opium of the people," and that the obscene blasphemies heaped upon everything which the Christian holds sacred and embodied in the propaganda in which the Soviet demands eradication of religion and all religious feeling from the people is of such a nature that it cannot be printed and can scarcely be referred to in decent company.

In demanding that the people eradicate all religious feeling, the Soviet has a rather large order. A government may compel its people to forego religious forms and public worship, but it can no more control their thoughts and feelings than it can compel the sun to stand still. Moreover, religious feeling is innate and not easily abolished, even by the individual. The Soviet government may flourish for a little while, but it has rung its own death knell in its formal anti-Christian policy.

NATIONAL SHRINES

One of the nation's most sacred shrines is the tomb of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill. As long as we respect and reverence the memory of our great men, we, as a nation, will hold their ideals in our heart. For this reason, the Kiwanis clubs of Shenandoah, Iowa, and Springfield, Ill., who made it possible for 1800 Iowa and Missouri school children to visit the home and the tomb of Lincoln have performed a patriotic service, the value of which will never be known. Surely these little pilgrims found inspiration as they visited the places made famous by our greatest statesmen, ending at the marble sarcophagus, where they laid wreaths upon his tomb. Surely the history of their country will have more significance for them after such a pilgrimage.

OPTIMISM THE KEYNOTE

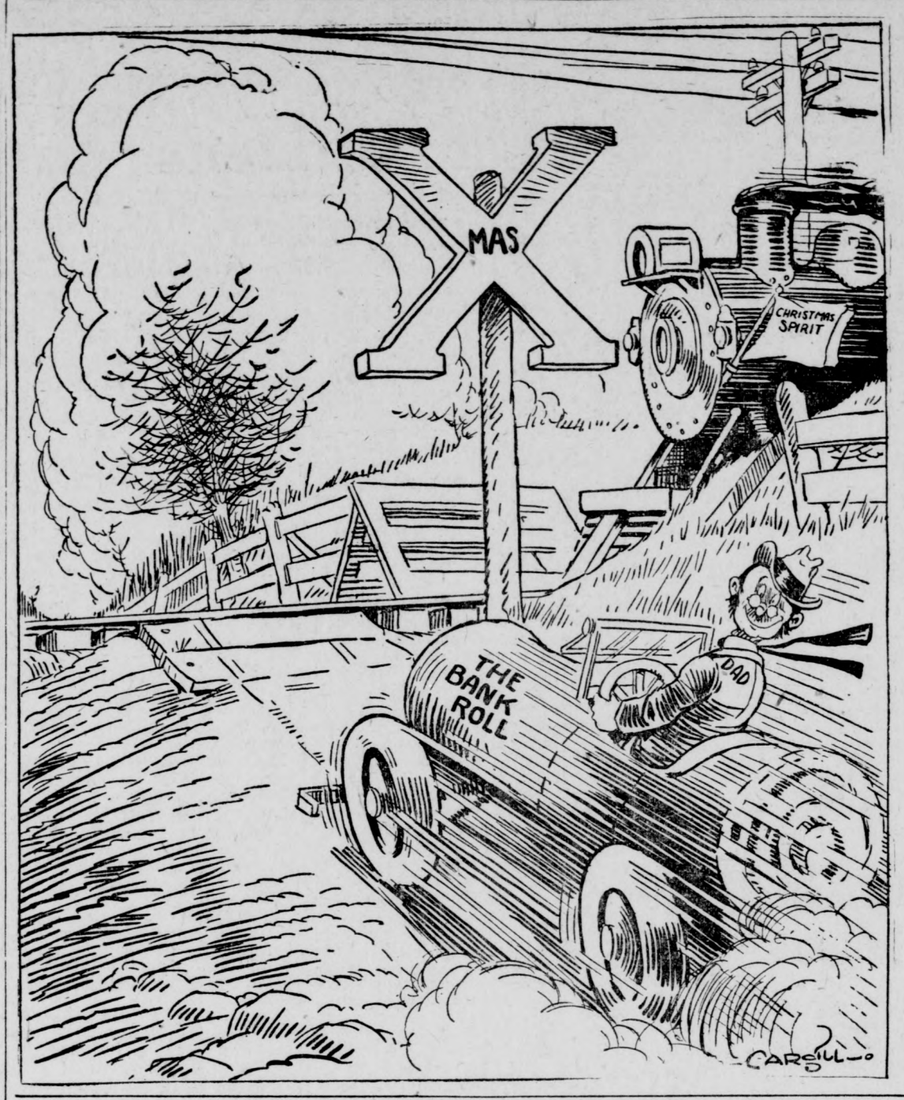
After interviewing 200 leaders of business in the United Sattes on the prospects of prosperity, the Chicago News gives the following composite result:

The United States faces the greatest period of prosperity it has ever known. The revival will not come with jarring suddenness, but will be gradual, healthy, progressive and of tremendous proportions. Unless all signs fail, the Coolidge administration will stand out as the greatest era of material progress this country or any other has ever experienced. The election, drowning all radical and critical voices, sets initiative, enterprise and credit free. The new era of prosperity may come along gradually, but it will be in evidence next year.

CALIFORNIA'S PROBLEM

One of California's most vital problems is that of water conservation and reforestation. The welfare of this great commonwealth depends upon the way this problem is handled. At a recent conservation convention in San Francisco some appalling figures were made public. California has turned back to the desert two and a fourth million acres of superior watershed and annually turns back sixty thousand acres more. Five hundred and fifty thousand acres fo watershed are burned off annually and in seven years the state has denuded more than 4,500,000 acres of forest. Floods follow fires, causing destruction for which the people must pay. A conservation program for California is one of our most urgent needs.

STOP, LOOK, AND LOOSEN!



The Tenth Anniversary

By DR. FRANK CRANE

This marks the tenth anniversary of the most remarkable event in the history of mankind.

Ten years ago Germany was prosperous, proud and going strong. In her universitise were the youth of the world; to the ends of the earth went her commercial travelers. She was buying everywhere, selling everywhere. Her ships were the most luxurious upon the Atlantic and by gradual and normal means she was coming to the top of things.

Then she went mad. Crazed with power and with false ideas, she undertook to conquer the world. Her judgment as to her adversaries miscalculated and in a few years she found herself beaten, humiliated, her emperor gone, her finances bankrupt, her trade disappeared.

On August 4, 1914, the czar was reigning in Russia, his strength secure in the devotion of a hundred million orthodox peasants. The czar has gone to a Red grave.

Ten years ago the caliph was a temporal and spiritual power for all Islam. His throne is gone.

Ten years ago the Austrian aristocracy was the proudest in the world. Now it is a shabby exile.

Ten years ago millions of men were living, who would still be young if they were living today, who are now lying under the soil of Europe or Asia or under the sea.

What good has come of it all? Have we learned enough hatrde of war to adopt intelligent methods for preventing it?

The League of Nations, which was formed at the close of the war to prevent another, has not fully realized expectations. The United States has apparently slumped into an isolation worse than before.

Fear and rage against Germany, in France, still rules, and England is yet full of unemployed.

It will take a long while to get over the disastrous effects of the Great War. It will always be a deep scar upon the breast of the world and in its furrows lie many buried hopes.

But to reasonable men it will always be a warning to be heeded. The destruction and disaster which it caused will always be a reminder that there is nothing so terrible in this world as a war and the hateful passions of men whoch it lets loose. To statesmen it ought to bring home the conclusion that there is no greater problem before them than so achieving the unity of the world as to ablish war.

Horoscope

Mercury in malefic aspect dominates today, according to astrology. Neptune is adverse. Late in the evening the Sun is in kindly sway.

In the business hours of the day it is well to avoid the signing of contracts or leases, for the judgment may not be reliable.

It is a fairly good rule for the buying of presents, but the tendency may be to spend too much.

There is a promising sign for progressive thought of every sort and instructors should benefit.

Schools and colleges should benefit greatly in the coming year, for there will be cause for thought on serious things and trained minds will be needed by the nation.

Nursing and all healing offices are subject to the best possible direction of the stars, but there may be much to be done since sickness will be unusually prevalent through the winter months.

This is not a favorable day for starting on long trips, especially those by water should be avoided.

Although diet will be much preached and practiced, the demand for sweets and for all products of the confectioner's art will be greater than usual during the holiday season.

The position of Neptune is not good for agricultural affairs.

Venus is in a place promising to theatrical ventures and there will be much interest in all sorts of amusements.

Astrologers again predict sweeping changes in motion picture-making, for the process is to be accepted as a modern art and to be improved by science that takes it out of present management.

Mars conjoined with Uranus denotes for Congress and other legislative bodies violent scenes and even personal recriminations.

Persons whose birth date it is have a fortnuate outlook for the future. They should be careful in all domestic affairs, for love may disappoint in the coming year.

Childern born on this day should be most fortunate as employees. These subjects of Sagittarius usually succeed as agriculturists. or as merchants. They should have cheerful, helpful dispositions.

Word 4 is what most of us say when we're hurt.

Word 5 is one of the 11 words in this sentence.

Word 7. They're part of the house, at the front and the back.

Running Down.)

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

The Ages of Wisdom

Every generation, no matter how paltry its character, thinks itself much wiser than the one immediately preceding it, let alone those that are remote. It is just the same with the different periods of a man's life.

In the years of physical growth, when our powers of mind and our stores of knowledge are deceiving daily additions, it becomes a habit to look down with contempt upon yesterday, as has been said. The habit takes root, and remains even after the intellectual powers have begun to decline—when today should rather look up with respect to yesterday.

This is the place for Schopenhauer's observation that, although in its main qualities a man's intellect or head as well as his character heart, is innate, yet the former is by no means so unalterable in its nature as the latter.

"That fact is that the intellect is subject to very many transformations, which, as a rule do not fail to make their actual appearance; and this is so, partly because the intellect has a deep foundation in the physique, and partly because the material with which it deals is given in experience."

And so we find that if a man has any peculiar strength, it first gradually increases in strength until it reaches its acme after which it enters upon a path of slow decadence, until it ends in imbecility.

But on the other hand, as Schopenhauer points out we must not lose sight of the fact that the material which gives employment to a man's cowers and keeps them in activity—the subject matter of thought and knowledge, experience, intellectual attainments, and the practice of seeing to the bottom of things, that is, a perfect mental vision, form in themselves a mass ,which continues to increase in size, until the time comes when weakness shows itself, and the man's powers suddenly fail.

The way in which these two-distinguishable elements combine in the same nature—the one absolutely unalterable, and the other subject to change in two directions opposed to each other—explains the variety of mental attitude and dissimilarity of value which attach to a man at different periods of life.

"A complete and adequate notion of life can never be attained by anyone who does not reach old age," observes Schopenhauer, "for it is only the old man who sees life whole and knows its natural course, it is only he who is acquainted—and this is most important—not only with its entrane, like the rest of mankind, but with its exit, too; so that he alone has a full sense of its utter vanity; "while the others never cease to labor under the false notion that everything will come right in the end."

Today's Poem

VIRGINIA

Sweetest smile, on wings of Joy born,
Her face transforming,
Like a transient rainbow,
The sky adorning.
Happy, little footsteps,
Dancing through the house, so gay,
Like rays of morning sunlight,
Which drive the gloom away.
Eyes so bright and true,
They open Heaven's Gate.
Such is sweet Virginia,
And she's only eight.

Dainty little hands and arms,
Enfolding mother's heart,
Like the petals of a new-born rose,
Love's perfume to impart.
Merry, rippling voice,
Which quiets daddy's cares,
And lifts his thoughts to God,
In humble, grateful prayers.
Heart as pure and innocent,
As a white winged dove.
Such is dear Virginia,
Who fills the world with love.

AGNES HENDERSON.

REALTORS PLACE FAITH IN BUYERS

Hayward & McCartney Point To Confidence Now Shown by Public

"There is a strong feeling of confidence displayed by real estate investors now that so many of the uncertainties of the past year are proving to be the "booga-boos" we all knew them to be," stated E. P. Hayward of Hayward & McCartney, located at 142 South Brand boulevard. The builders are showing their faith in an assured future by buying lots in all sections of Glendale, and improving them with homes appropriate for the respective districts.

"During the past month Hayward & McCartney have sold lots to builders for building purposes in every section of town. The most surprising and gratifying activity in residential building is centering around Kenneth road and Pacific avenue, where many homes of the better type are rapidly taking shape. I. Cline, Henry Michel, Frank Rhode, Nathan Rigdon, W. J. Barnas, John A. Fisher, Hayward & McCartney, and many other prominent builders are erecting splendid edifices in this location.

Shrewd Speculator

"The shrewd speculator, looking for an investment where values are expected to double and treble in the next few months, is turning his eyes toward Los Feliz boulevard, between the Southern Pacific railroad and Griffith park, where so much public development is planned. Not only is the road to be widened and paved, sidewalks, curbing, and ornamental lights installed, but a twenty-two acre children's playground is to be developed adjoining Griffith park, at a cost of several thousands of dollars, and for Griffith park the erection of a Greek theatre and a $400,000 observatory are announced.

"The owners of one of the few choice corners in this limited area is holding out for a price of $1000 per front foot, while Hayward & McCartney state that as good a corner can be had now for less than $280 per front foot. Messrs. Hubbert and Crittenden, former executives of Kress & Co., who transplanted a few months ago to Glendale from Oklahoma and Arkansas, respectively, have bought several pieces of Los Feliz boulevard frontage; while a syndicate from Cleveland, Ohio, recently purchased a ninety foot corner in this vicinity, improved with a business block. No time like the present, say Hayward & McCartney.

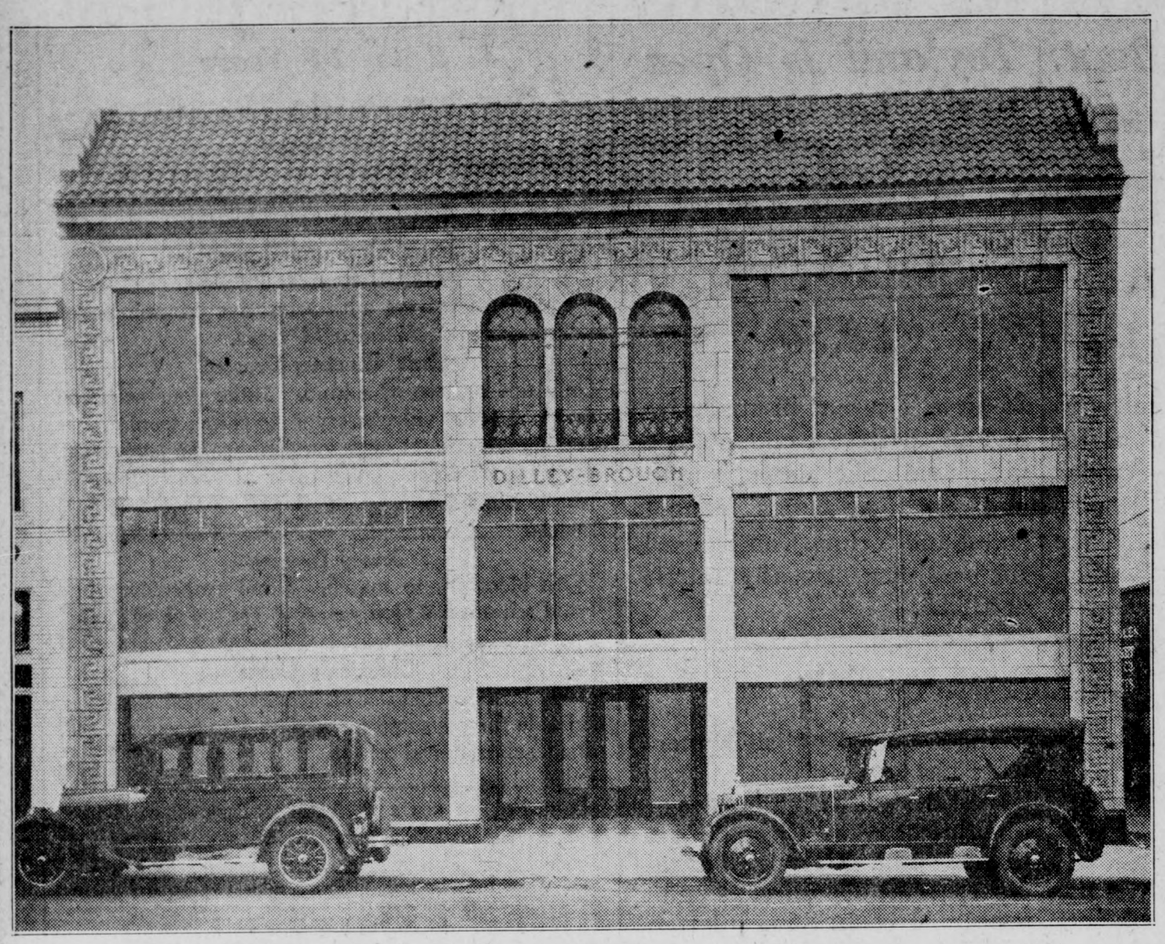
New Furniture Store Opens Here

Exterior of the DILLEY-BROUGH FURNITURE CO., at 314-16 East Broadway, the latest addition to mercantile circles of Glendale, where goods of the highest class and quality will be offered to the buying public at figures that successfully compete with similar firms located in other cities. The new firm has adopted a 'sold for cash only' policy for doing business here, the quick turnover and elimination of middlemen's profits going direct to the customers.



Members of Firm Have Years of Experience In Mercantile World; Formal Opening Tomorrow Afternoon At 3 o'Clock

With the intention of giving Glendale higher quality goods at prices lower than quoted by Los Angeles firms and adopting a 'sold for cash only' basis, the Dilley-Brough Furniture Co. opens tomorrow at 314-16 East Broadway in a building just completed and which will give to Glendale one of its most sumptuous mercantile establishments.

Clark Dilley, head of the organization, started in the furniture business in Hebron, Indiana, when he was fifteen years old and when less than seventeen years old was making trips to Chicago buying furniture. In 1903 he went to Roswell, N. M., and organized the Dilley Furniture Co. He engaged there in the manufacture, wholesale and retail business, his object always being to eliminate the middleman's profit and pass the saving on to the consumer.

About three years ago Mr. Dilley met with an accident and was forced to retire from business. He came to Hollywood and lived a life of retirement until recently when the lure of Glendale became too much and he organized the Dilley-Brough Furniture Co. Mr. Dilley is an ardent Glendale booster, saying, "It is the best city in the best state in the best country in the world." Associated with him are Harry Brough, a young man, also from New Mexico, and his mother, Emily D. Brough.

One of the pleasing features of his organization here Mr. Dilley says, will be that he will have with him two employes whom he had for years in New Mexico. Miss B. Porter will be in charge of the office and she was with Mr. Dilley fifteen years in New Mexico. One of the salesmen will be Harold Thompson, also with Mr. Dilley for years in New Mexico, but recently connected with a furniture store in Long Beach.

The Dilley-Brough investment in Glendale is over $100,000. The building is three-stories, concrete and steel with 15,000 square feet of floor space. Interior finish is solid mahogany trimmed in ivory enamel. A mezzanine surrounds the first floor and will display rare pieces of furniture. The art floor is done in colors and distinctive windows glassed off from the main floor are finished in a clouded rose and grey effect. Wrought iron Spanish electric fixtures complete a salesroom of beauty and convenience. A receiving and shipping room with elevator is at the rear of the main floor.

Mr. Dilley says his stock will be equal to anything in Southern California and among the many distinctive pieces seen were many of hairwood, something entirely new just put out by furniture factories. Inlaid mahogany also occupies a prominent place in the display along with tapestry and overstuffed pieces. Mr. Dilley buys direct from the Grand Rapids factories and by eliminating the jobber's profit says he can sell furniture for cash in Glendale at less than is asked by credit houses for vastly inferior goods. The third floor is devoted to rugs, bedding, beds and heavier pieces of furniture.

The formal opening of the Dilley-Brough store will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and Glendalians are invited to make an inspection of the building. The Shrine orchestra will furnish a musical program.

Cardboard models of houses on a one-quarter or one-eighth inch scale, are made instead of blueprints for his clients by an English architect.

STATE OFFICIAL IS GLENDALE VISITOR

Insurance Appraiser Looks Over Values Here and Sees Prosperity

Edward J. Sullivan, appraiser of the insurance department of the State of California, was a caller at the office of The Glendale Evening News yesterday. Mr. Sullivan will spend a few days here appraising property for some of the big life insurance companies of New York and California as the companies are contemplating making a number of loans here.

Mr. Sullivan said he was gratified to know that such large financial institutions have evidenced such confidence in Glendale that they are anxious and willing to loan a great deal of money in this city. This is conclusive proof of their unbounded faith in the great future of Glendale, he said.

Glendale Boosted

Mr. Sullivan resided in this city twenty years ago and expressed his astonishment at its marvelous growth. He perdicted that in ten years, Glendale will have a population of 100,000.

Of interest to Glendalians is the fact that since Governor Friend W. Richardson became head executive of the state two years ago, a saving of $25,000 a year has been effected in the appraisement department and that for the first time in history the insurance companies have placed confidence in the administration and have no hesitancy in loaning vast sums of money on the advice of the insurance department, Mr. Sullivan stated.

Goldsmith Still Runs Army and Navy Store

Sam Goldsmith, manager of the Coast to Coast Army store, Brand boulevard and Harvard street, again calls the attention of Glendalians to the fact it was not his store that sold its lease and went out of business. Mr. Goldsmith says he has an unusually large stock for the holiday trade, and his shelves are filled with thousands of dollars' worth of attractive merchandise that will be sold at prices that will appeal to the buyers.

OPTIMISTS HEAR COLLEGE LEADER

Occidental School Teacher Speaks Before Club Luncheon Today

In an address, "Tasks and Tests of Social Progress," Professor Charles F. Lindsey of Occidental college told Glendale Optimists that "there is a grave question in the minds of many serious-thinking men as to whether progress is actually the order of the day." He suggested that perhaps man has reached the pinnacle and is now pausing before starting the journey down the other side to the valley.

"Material progress has outstripped moral advancement." Institutions must come to serve wider fields and purposes in the future, he said, if the world is actually to progress. The progress must take a moral, educational and aesthetic turn.

Eugene J. Wix urged support of the Boy Scout movement before the Optimists and told of the Scouts' trip into Tujunga canyon a week ago.

Attendance Prize

C. H. Arbenz suggested that the attendance committee take up the matter of an attendance prize each week.

C. H. Hunter introduced Glendale's baby Optimist, Charles McDaniel of the Nash agency who was elected to membership last week.

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce inviting the Optimists to join in the series of Glendale radio programs which are being planned.

C. R. Postle, chairman of today's program, entertained the club with a number of sleight-of-hand tricks.

President H. R. Boyer presided. The meeting was at the Masonic temple at noon.

MRS. THOM'S WILL UP FOR PROBATE

Estate Valued at More Than $1,000,000; Three Sons, One Daughter Heirs

An estate of more than one million dollars, much of it in Glendale property, was disclosed when the will of the late Belle Cameron Thom, widow of the well known Glendale pioneer, was filed for probate in Los Angeles. Mrs. Thom died November 17, 1924.

Those named as heirs and beneficiaries of the former Glendale woman are her sons, Cameron D. Thom, 303 North Isabel street, Catsby Charles Thom and Erskine Pembroke Thom of Los Angeles and Belle Thom Collins, a daughter.

To Cameron D. Thom, past president of the Glendale Realty board, and widely known throughout the city, was willed all the shares in the mother's capital stock in the Security Trust & Savings bank. The residue of the remaining Glendale items included in the estate is to be divided share and share alike between the three sons. Similar disposition was made of large Los Angeles property holdings.

"Wild Air" estate on West Adams street, Los Angeles, will go to Mrs. Collins, the daughter and wife of Arthur Collins of London, England. A valuable trust fund also was created through the Security Trust & Savings bank for the benefit of Mrs. Collins during her life. There is a proviso in the will denying any part of the trust fund proceeds for use in paying debts or other obligations of the husband of Mrs. Collins.

'Black Spider' Sought After Three L. A. Fires

SERVICE STATION BANDITS' VICTIM

Three Holdup Men Rifle Shell Cash Drawer With Guns Drawn

A daring holdup that netted but $7.96 was made by three men in an automobile, at 4:45 o'clock this morning, on the service station of the Shell Co. of California, southeast corner of Los Feliz and San Fernando roads.

F. L. Stone was on duty alone at the time. One man stayed in the car while the other two got out and came inside, he reported, one covering him with a .45 automatic pistol and the other rifling the cash register.

Instead of ordering him to hold up his hands, the men commanded Mr. Stone to keep them at his side, as the glassed-in construction of the station made it possible for passersby to see everything that was going on.

When it was seen that a few dollars in cash was all there was to be had, the men ordered Mr. Stone to turn his back and, the third man having the car ready, they made off.

Two of the men were large and one was small, according to Mr. Stone, who stated the car was an old model big six Studebaker of nondescript color. He could not distinguish the license number. An investigation is being conducted by the Glendale police department, in charge of Lieutenant W. J. Royle.

Service Station Gives Oil Free to Customers

During the introduction of Dayton tires by Marshall Super Service station, 105 North Maryland avenue, today and tomorrow, one quart of eastern oil will be given free with each five gallons of gasoline. The service station management says the Dayton tire is built for low air pressure and has six plys of cord. They also agree to take in trade old tires and make a liberal allowance. Another of their features is the guarantee to save 10 per cent of the motorists' operating cost.

LOCAL SPECIALIST TALKS TO DOCTORS

T. C. Young Speaks Before Surgical Society at Monthly Meet

Dr. T. C. Young, Glendale surgeon, spoke before the monthly meeting of the Los Angeles Osteopathic Surgical society last night on the surgical treatment for kidney stones. Dr. Young said that of 300 cases which have come to his attention, wrong diagnosis has been given in at least 50 per cent. He demonstrated an instrument which he said made diagnosis positive in nearly 100 per cent of the cases. Dr. Young appealed for support for the National Society of Tuberculosis Prevention, declaring tuberculosis is commonly the cause of kidney stones.

Dr. C. W. May, physicist to the Glendale Osteopathic Research hospital, demonstrated his method of radiographing renal calculi stones in the kidneys. Dr. W. T. Burt of Eagle Rock was another speaker on the same subject. Dr. Ernest G. Bashor of Los Angeles presided at the meeting.

Burbank Ball Team to Play Two Fast Squads

Two fast and furious ball games are scheduled for the week-end by Manager M. R. Bacom of the Burbank team. Both games will be played at the Benmar park in Burbank, and large crowds from neighboring cities are expected. On Saturday the Burbankers will meet the Gilmore Oilers in a regular Saturday league scheduled game. The Gilmore Oilers are fighting to gain the top ring in the Saturday league and will go to Burbank prepared to put up a stiff battle. On Sunday the attraction will be Lankershim, of the San Fernando Valley league, a strong contender for first place. Lankershim and Burbank teams have long been rivals and one of the fastest ball games of the day is expected to develop.

In 1923 it was decided for the first time to attempt the destruction with explosives of those icebergs which had drifted into the North Atlantic lanes of travel.

TROJANS SET FOR BONFIRE SENDOFF

Tonight's the Night at U. S. C. Ushering In Syracuse Game

With plans to eclipse anything by way of bon-fire rallies, the freshman class at the University of Southern California has been daily working on the mammoth pile of lumber, rubbish, and whatnot that will be lighted tonight, preceding the Syracuse-U. S. C. classic, tomorrow.

All this week, male members of the class have been hauling railroad ties, boxes, small trees, and every other conceivable form of inflammable material, and, according to Henry Rohr, who is in charge of the affair, everything is in readiness for the match tonight.

Fifty-foot Pile

Present plans call for a pile at least fifty feet in heighth, and mounted on a base fifteen feet square. The huge stack is supported by six limit-height telephone poles, while on top will rest a huge figure of U. S. C. which, wrapped in oil-soaked burlap, will burn this insignia in the sky.

In addition to the bonfire, the freshmen are planning to turn out in a body for a monster pajamarino, to be preceded by a number of more or less high class specialty acts, including some novelties which will show the Trojan feeling towards the recent "break" with Stanford and California. The monster event will be part of the homecoming celebration which is a new tradition at the Methodist institution.

Goodsell and Sons Do High Class Decorating

Many high class decorating jobs are credited to O. D. Goodsell & Son, 524 South street, among them being the home of Clark Dilley, head of the Dilley-Brough Furniture store, in Hollywood; Charles Joyce home in Lanewood; and many others. Goodsell & Son do all of W. W. Walcott's work.

The elder Goodsell was born and raised in Buffalo, N. Y., and has been in the painting and decorating business thirty-eight years. He moved to Roswell, N. M., sixteen years ago and three years ago came to Glendale. Mr. Goodsell's son has been associated with him nine years.

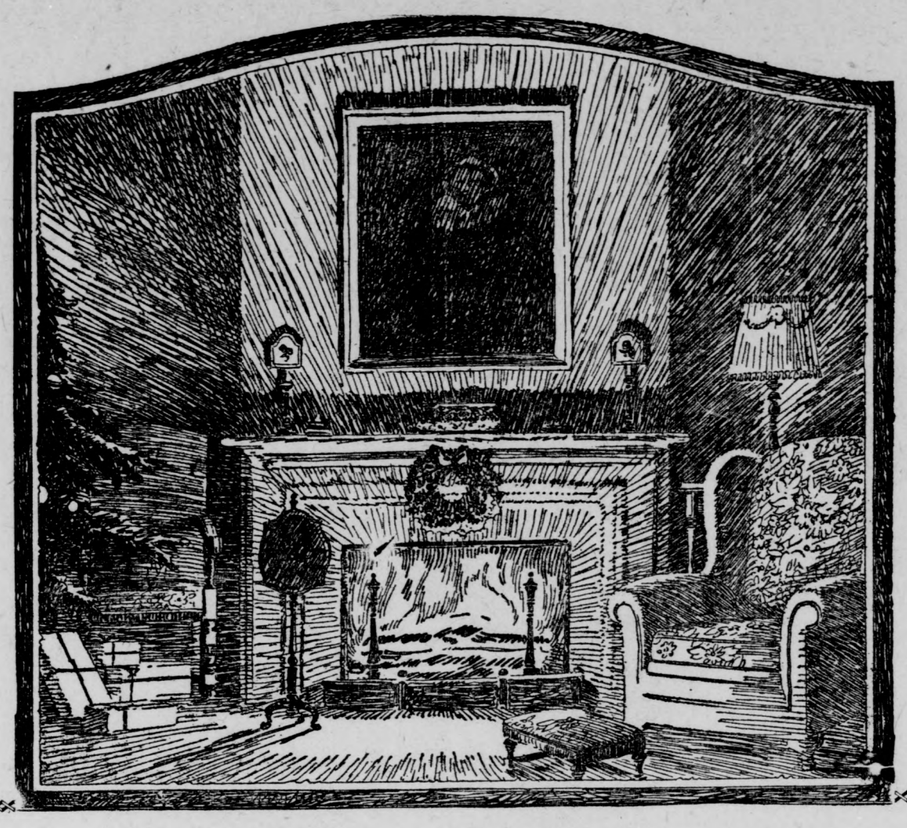
AN INVITATION



TO VISIT US

Saturday, December 6th

3 to 10 p.m.

ON THIS DATE our doors will be formally opened to the public, and our earnest desire is to have you with us for our house warming. For many months past we have been looking forward to this occasion, and, as the work progressed on our new building, and particularly as it neared completion, we have been counting the days, so to speak, when we could ask you to join with us in celebrating the opening of our new home.

Glendale is fast outgrowing the swaddling clothes of the small town, and is rapidly emerging into a metropolitan city. It is the recognition of this fact that has influenced us to come here and to unite our resources and energy with those already here in the upbuilding of this community.

Holidays are coming, and, for true home keepers, the spirit of the season is cheer and hospitality. The very best background for this spirit is a beautifully furnished home---right here is where our usefulness comes in.

Three immense floors of furniture and furnishings which have been selected from the best factories in the world. Selected with the thought in mind of being able to provide furniture to meet the requirements of every home ---bungalow, villa or mansion.

But, to best appreciate what we are trying to tell you, just come to our opening, see and inspect our building and stocks for yourself. Thank you.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

DIET FOR A CHILD FROM ONE AND ONE-HALF TO TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS.

Last week we finished the table of feeding up to the eighteenth month. Today we will give the table up to two and one-half years.

Children who have not been having some of the foods they need, are very apt to be capricious and refuse them when first presented. The vegetables seem to come in for the greatest share of animosity. Now, as the vegetable part of a child's diet is a very necessary item, it is highly important that objections are overcome.

Various methods may be used—stories, little rewards and other pleasant procedures; and if these are not effective then unpleasant steps have to be taken. Undoubtedly the best one in this line is to withhold all foods until the child is hungry enough to eat anything set before it. A twelve or even a twenty-four hour fast, with plenty of water, will usually convince the autocrat that the undesired food is about the nicest thing in the world. As I have told you before, be prepared for a stormy time, and warn your neighbors so they won't have you up before the Anti-Cruelty Society. This happened in one of my cases, so I know it is a possibility.

Begin all new foods in very small proportions, one article at a meal, and increase gradually. The amount of energy food needed depends upon the child's size, weight and activity—in general, 1000 to 1250 calories will cover this period.

BREAKFAST—7 to 7:30 A. M.

Milk, eight ounces (no sugar) after and with solid foods.

Cereal, one-half cupful or more with some of the milk allowed (sugar not necessary).

Dry crisp bread and butter. (Butter, one to two teaspoonfuls divided through the day's ration).

Eggs, two or three times a week or oftener.

One to two half slices of partly crisped broiled bacon, two or three times a week when egg is not given.

Any fresh or stewed fruit (a fresh orange preferably).

DINNER—12 N.

Meat or vegetable broths or creamed soups, two or three times a week.

Crisp bread and butter.

Scraped beef or other tender meats (nothing fried or greasy) two to three level tablespoonfuls* OR

Cottage cheese, three to four tablespoonfuls, OR

Nut butter, one to two level tablespoonfuls.

Milk, four to eight ounces.

Vegetables—potato mashed or baked, and one or two other vegetables.

At least one leafy vegetable daily. Spinach especially recommended.

Any vegetables cooked for the family can be used. You can begin giving tender raw vegetables, scraped, or ground fine at first, after the chewing teeth are in. Begin in very small amounts at first and increase gradually.

Spaghetti, macaroni or rice can be given occasionally instead of potato.

Fruit pulp, cooked or raw, three to four level tablespoonfuls. Can begin simple deserts such as custards, rice, cornstarch, tapioca, junket, etcetera. NO CANDY.

LUNCH—3 P. M.

Milk, five to six ounces.

SUPPER—5:30 to 6 P. M.

Milk, eight ounces.

Dry crisp bread and butter.

Cereal, one-half cupful or more, with some of the above milk on it. (Prepared cereals—those already cooked and dried—can be given occasionally, for a change, after the chewing teeth are in.)

Milk toast or cream soups may be given instead of cereals.

Stewed fruits, one-fourth to one-half cupful (very little sugar).

*After the first molars—chewing teeth—are in (from twelve to sixteen months they erupt) the meat and vegetables may be chopped instead of scraped or pureed.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

NAILS AND THE MANICURE

No matter how hard you work, you can acquire pretty hands and perfect finger nails. The hard working wife probably won't believe this, but it's true. I know, from my own personal experience of donning gloves (rubber, leather, cosmetic) that about the only work that can't be done without wetting the hands is cutting vegetables for cooking. And when this work is done it consumes but five short minutes to smear the hands with cold cream or lard, wash off with water and castile soap—and bring forth the manicure outfit so as to give the nails the daily care which is their due.

Your manicure outfit should consist of a long steel file, with a pointed tip to clean under the nails, emery boards, orangewood sticks, a padded chamois covered buffer, curved and pointed manicure scissors, manicure paste, nail rouge, a bottle of lemon juice for bleaching, polishing paste or powder, and a nail brush.

"Daily care" means to wash the nails, clean under them, reshape with the fine side of an emery board, push back the cuticle with an orangewood stick and polish. At bedtime also rub in cold cream or nail rouge and push back the cuticle with an orangewood stick.

A thorough manicure should be given each week. For this weekly manicure: file your nails beyond the finger end, using a long and flexible steel file. Soak the fingers in a bowl of warm, soapy water a few minutes. Rub a little manicure paste around the nails, scrape off the dead cuticle, wash off with a nail brush and water, polish with polishing powder and a large buffer. Clean under the nails, clip off rough edges of skin and the ragged bits of nail at the corners with manicure scissors, rub on the nail rouge. Wipe this off after a few minutes and polish once more with a buffer. Remove all stains and lemon juice.

Ridges are generally due to uric acid in the blood. Scrape them off with a cuticle knife, rub with cold cream, and polish until smooth and shiny. The daily and weekly treatments, as given above, will generally cure these ridges.

White spots on the nails are not a disfigurement. If you don't like them, however, make a paste of turpentine and myrrh, spread thickly and remove next day with olive oil.

A Reader—Try lemon juice or buttermilk as a mild bleach for the skin. At this season of the year freckles will fade out without special treatment.

C. C. T.—I will be glad to mail you formulas for making your own creams if you wish them. If you are not sure of the creams you buy, you can keep your skin clear of soil by massaging with any fine vegetable oil such as olive or the real almond.

You can easily do this yourself

Anxious Mother—As your daughter is slender there is no reason why she should wear a brassiere. There is no special age when these supports are worn, it depends entirely upon the need for them.

Tomorrow—The Eyes, Brows and Lashes

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question—The Editor.

"Christmas Fruit Cake: Cream one-half pound of butter then beat into it one pound of brown sugar and four fresh eggs; mix well, then add one-fourth cup of molasses, and stir in two cups of bread flour sifted with three teaspoons of baking powder. Also add one-half pound of raisins, one-half pounds of currants, two cups of cider, one-fourth pound of mixed peel, one-half cup each of almonds and walnuts chopped, one teaspoon each of ground cinnamon and ground nutmeg, and one-half teaspoon each of ground cloves and allspice. Put the mixture into two greased cake pans lined with paper, and bake for one hour in a slow oven—possibly a little longer."—(Contributed by Mrs. P.)

Noel Cake: Cream together two cups of granulated sugar and one and one-third cups of butter or oleomargarine. Beat eight eggs into this mixture, one at a time. Now mix and sift two and two-thirds cups of pastry flour with one teaspoon of baking powder and a pinch of salt (to make ordinary bread flour more like pastry flour, add two level tablespoons of dry cornstarch powder to each cup of flour). Add some of the flour to the mixing bowl, then wet with two tablespoons of sweet milk. Add the remainder of the flour and the following fruit and flavoring: one cup of chopped raisins, figs and dates mixed, and one-half teaspoon of lemon extract. Bake this in a greased pan lined with paper, in a slow oven for one hour.

Dark Fruit Cake: Cream together one-half cup of butter and two-thirds of a cup of brown sugar; beat into this three eggs, then add one-half cup of dark molasses. Now sift together these ingredients: Two cups of pastry flour, one teaspoon of baking soda, one teaspoon of ground cinnamon, a pinch each of mace, allspice, ground clove and nutmeg, and a generous pinch of salt. Stir some of this dry flour-mixture into the butter-egg-sugar mixture, then add one-half cup of milk and stir in the rest of the flour. Also add one cup each of raisins and currants, one-half cup of citron peel finely chopped and, if you have it, one-fourth cup of chopped candied orange peel. Grease two baking powder cans, line them with paper, then turn this batter into them; put on covers and sink the cans up to their covers in boiling water, letting the water boil around them for one hour. Then place the cans in a slow oven for another hour.

Note: Never ice a fruit cake till you are ready to serve it.

Tomorrow—Changing the Home for Christmas.

was appointed secretary to succeed Mrs. L. C. Denman.

Mrs. Ella Richardson gave a report on a meeting held recently in regard to making provision to brighten the Christmas holidays for the inmates of the Soldiers' home. She introduced Miss Gillan, who made a strong appeal to the club for co-operation with other organizations in Glendale that are already actively interested in the work. Mrs. Campbell announced that the matter would be acted upon at the first board meeting.

Mrs. S. E. Brown and Mrs. Sharpe made short reports on the meeting of the presidents' council held recently in Glendale. Announcement was made that the next meeting of the club would be held January 8, owing to the regular meeting day coming on New Year's day.

Mrs. H. B. Clarkson, one of the leading demonstrators of the Pacific coast, directed the food display, with six expert assistants. Each was in charge of an attractively arranged display of merchandise of some well known western firm. Mrs. Clarkson, speaking of coffee, touched especially on the present shortage in the world markets, its causes and probable duration. Others spoke on the merits of western goods, and the many new products put on the market this year.

Luncheon Served

The final feature was the serving by the demonstrators of a plate lunch, consisting of vegetable salad, hot biscuit, coffee, plum pudding, wafers, and strawberry jam.

A number of the best articles on display were distributed as special prizes.

Kellogg's Bran delights father by bringing health to children

Poor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat ordinary brans. They didn't like them. Most folks don't. Then their father tried Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. What a difference! He tells the story in his letter:

"Dear Sirs:

I wish to express my appreciation of your krumbled bran, which I have used for my children this summer. We had a great deal of trouble with them through constipation, and bran had been the most satisfactory remedy but they could not be induced to take the old varieties . . . because they disliked them so. They enjoy the krumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge. No one whose children have not been troubled in this way can appreciate the relief there is in having their bowels move regularly."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It should not be neglected. But do not try halfway measures in seeking relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. And it takes ALL bran to be 100% effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. The flavor is delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes on every package. It will bring you health. Begin eating it to-day. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Campaign Planned to Get Funds for Church

Responsibility." Rev. Barnwell explained the responsibility of the individual to the work of the parish and the church at large, also told the difference between the National Council of the Episcopal church and the various parishes. Rev. Barnwell's main point was the interest of the individual to the church at large and the local parish, stating that loyalty to all work of the church was first.

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of the church, in a short talk explained the plans for the every-member canvass which would start Sunday afternoon and how the canvass would be conducted.

ADVENTIST MEET COMES TO CLOSE

Most Successful Gathering Ever Held Reported By Leaders

The three-day session of the efficiency commission, Pacific Union conference, terminated 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the Glendale sanitarium, following ratification by the executive committee of the commission's findings. Dr. A. W. Truman, medical superintendent of the local sanitarium, was elected chairman of the medical section for the ensuing year, to succeed Dr. A. D. Butterfield of Loma Linda.

Following the wind-up of the conference, the fifty representatives of the sixteen participating organizations—including delegates from California, Arizona, Utah and Nevada—packed up and prepared for an early return to their homes, many leaving for the north last night on the Owl and others getting away earlier in the afternoon, by motor, for points north, south and east.

Successful Meet

"This year's meeting of the efficiency commission was the most successful we have ever held," said Elder J. L. McElhany, president of the Pacific Union conference, following the termination of the meet. "The results of the action taken here will be of far-reaching influence in all the eight conferences and nine institutions represented."

One of the most important decisions of the commission was that hereafter sessions will be held semi-annually, instead of annually, as in the past. The training school section, whose chairman is Miss Helen Rice, superintendent of nurses at the Paradise Valley sanitarium, laid plans for a greatly increased program of training nurses for Adventist work.

The medical section, under Chairman Dr. A. D. Butterfield, outlined definite ways in which its work in the five sanitariums of the Pacific Union conference will be augmented during the coming year. The business section, under H. G. Childs of Mountain View, adopted an important program of standardization. The report of the nomination committee, which was adopted, returns F. E. Corson of Loma Linda as chairman of the commission for another year.

BURBANK CHORAL CLUB'S PROGRAM

Piano Number to Feature Concert by Visitors at High School

A group of piano numbers will be a feature of the program given in the Harvard High school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight, by the Burbank Choral club, the visiting organization being assisted in its entertainment by Zefer Algots Sparrow, pianiste. Charles LeRoy Munro will lead the singers, with Myrtle Radcliff Hart assisting as accompanist. About fifty members of the club are expected to participate in the program, which is being presented here free of charge upon the invitation of the Glendale Choral club. All interested persons are invited to attend.

The visitors will be welcomed by a reception committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, the latter being president of the Glendale Choral club. With them will be Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Myers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ernest Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kulp, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Markle, Mrs. Virginia Freeman and Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, all being prominent workers in Community Service and the Choral club.

Words of Welcome

Words of welcome will be given by Mr. Baird, retiring president of Community Service, and by V. M. Hollister, chairman of the music committee. It is also expected that Mayor Robinson, who is a member of the club, will be present to greet the Burbank club.

Preceding the program a few minutes of community singing will be led by J. Arthur Myers, it being the plan of the Glendale club to inaugurate the season's community "sings" at this gathering.

Following the musical entertainment, the two clubs will enjoy a social hour, with refreshments served in the First Presbyterian church social rooms.

Men Taken In Tavern Raid Pay $50 Fines

C. R. Dodge, arrested at the Glendale Tavern Sunday morning, November 30, with L. H. Andrea, of Los Angeles, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court to a charge of possessing intoxicants, and was fined $50 which he paid.

Andrea pleaded guilty to the same charge on Monday and was likewise fined $50, which he paid. The arrests were made during a raid early Sunday morning, federal prohibition officers working with officers of the Glendale police department, under Chief John D. Fraser.

BETTER BUILT HOMES—Not Merely Houses

Built-in features
—cabinet made—for your home

Instead of cutting the lumber on the job and constructing the cupboards and other built-in features by the slow hand method, we secure these items from the Pacific mill knocked-down. The carpenter can then devote his entire time to the actual onstruction and assembly of the items and the finished job will be far neater and reflect finer workmanship.

Pacific Homes are in no way portable or sectional. The materials are prepared in ready-cut lengths at the mill so that the carpenter does not have to spend hours of time hand-sawing and trial-fitting the pieces on the job. COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Will some one please write a limerick on the subject of paving?

Every community in California, it would seem from local papers, is enjoying the same claim of fraud in petitions and what not whenever a project is proposed to improve highways with either concrete or asphalt or patent paving.

Briefly, permit the writer to explain for the uninitiated that there are various concerns interested in paving. Oil companies operating asphalt plants, owners of patent mixtures and the cement interests are after the business of supplying materials.

High-priced political salesmen are employed to get RESULTS. Like the lobbyists for light standard manufacturers, they insist on cooking up trouble for the public and city officials. Through property owners, attorneys, reachable officials and others whom they can sway, they attack whatever action is taken—perhaps justly so—but it is certainly a bore to see the "same old stuff" staged day after day in Los Angeles, Glendale, Huntington Beach and a long list of places where these performances have been staged. Less argument and BETTER paving would be appreciated by those who PAY for the improvements.

Hearty endorsement has been given the suggestion that all active lawyers be barred from legislative posts in the state and national government. As long as they are permitted to accept fees from interests whom they are able to favor, just so long this government will be subject to graft and corruption.

Also, lawyers will NOT vote for legislation which will simplify legal procedure for the benefit of the public. But, at the last session of the legislature in California, they did urge the adoption of measures which simplified their work at the expense of clients, if our memory serves us well.

No doubt the legal profession is highly respectable as a whole; it may be considered a necessary evil; yet, like dope, the more laws the lawyers have, the more they need.

Sidelights on President Coolidge, as presented to readers of The Glendale Evening News by David Lawrence, who yesterday told of breakfast conferences, or the accounts of his trip to Chicago by George E. Durno, show a man of independent character, democratic tastes and as typical an American as one would desire. He is a Yankee, and thrifty. He doesn't care who knows it. He travels in an ordinary Pullman car, eats on the regular diner, dresses in clothes no better than the ordinary business man.

That is not all, but it is enough to assure the common people they have no flighty man, no fop, no uncrowned "king" to look up to in the White House. President Coolidge is an unusual type among politicians. He may be wrong in some of his views, so far as part of the people is concerned, but he is absolutely right in exemplifying that guarantee of the constitution that any ordinary man, who has gained public confidence, can serve well his country in its most honored position.

For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Thomas F. Green, aged 50, well known in Los Angeles legal circles as a former deputy United States district attorney, committed suicide late Thursday in his downtown offices.

Ruth Clifford, film star, at noon today wed J. A. Cornelius, real estate dealer, at St. Ambrose church, Hollywood. They leave tomorrow on the City of Los Angeles for a honeymoon trip to Hawaii. Yesterday afternoon Peggy Linden and Manuel Perez, film dancers, were married by Judge Walter Hanby. And Mrs. Charlie Chaplin, 16-year-old school girl bride, has agreed to have a private tutor continue her schooling, it was reported today.

Foreign residents have suggested an "International Bureau" for the Los Angeles police department, declaring that crimes among the foreign populace are mainly due to ignorance which could be overcome by their own countrymen.

Another refugee from snow-bound Chicago arrived in the city yesterday to view Los Angeles traffic with alarm. He is Col. Albert Denman, far enough away from home to be called an "expert" on traffic, having commanded the Windy City's traffic bureau for twenty-one years.

Brutality by Hollywood police in an investigation at the home of Harold D. Carsey, Hollywood photographer, is alleged by their victim who objected to a plain-clothes officer searching his home without a warrant. An investigation is under way.

Universality

UNIVERSAL telephone service must be universal in scope—it must reach anyone, anywhere. But it must be universal also in cost—it must be within the financial reach of everyone, everywhere.

Years of research have been required to provide the telephone instruments, switchboards, wire and supplementary apparatus which afford intercommunication between housewives, shopkeepers, farmers and millions of other American telephone users.

But these facilities do not in themselves make America's telephone service a universal service. Telephone engineers have spent years of additional study in order to build, maintain and operate this nation-wide system so economically that the cost of service may be kept at all times well below its value to the telephone user.

Upon the two fundamentals of extensiveness in scope and economy in cost the Bell System has built the most universal telephone service in the World.

FACULTY FROLIC PLAN OF SCHOOL

Glendale High Will Give Third Annual Play Friday Night

The third annual frolic given by the faculty of Glendale Union High school will be staged in the Broadway auditorium Friday night, December 12, at 8 o'clock. The teachers will present George Kelly's "The Torchbearers," which is a three-act satire on theatre movements and affords ample opportunity for amusement.

The character study of the first act, the hokum of the second and the starring of Mrs. Pimpinelli in the third promises much fun. The play is under the direction of Harold L. Brewster, teacher of dramatics at the Glendale High school and producer of plays.

Among the teachers who have a part in the play are: Harold L. Brewster as Frederick Ritter, Mary Jane Collins as Paula Ritter, Park L. Turrill as Mr. Spindler, Bert Rolfe as Teddy Spearing, Paul E. Well as Ralph Twiller, Morgan Smith is the stage manager.

Property Owners Hold Stormy Mass Meeting

until the Hyperion boulevard is finished," he said.

Next came the question of city-made light standards for Colorado street and, although Chairman Belcher averred, in bringing up the subject, that the "kind" of standard would not be discussed or taken into account, this angle consumed much time in discussion and was the object of one official action and appointment of a second committee.

A committee composed of J. M. Hague, Mike Silengo, Russell Graham and Mrs. R. B. Neil was appointed to ask the council to have a sample of the proposed standard erected, so the property owners may see what it looks like. E. H. Scott suggested that five "huskies" be named to pair off with the five members of the City Council. In naming Mrs. Neil, the chairman remarked, "This will be nothing you can't handle as well as a man."

Then in quick succession came two other motions calling upon the City Council to furnish the property owners a guarantee of the exact cost per front foot of the proposed lighting improvement, and to hold up all work until approved by all the owners.

"That's as impossible as pulling yourself up by the boot straps," shouted Councilman Davis as the motions were passed.

"There is nothing before the house," returned Chairman Belcher.

Verbal Barrage Opens

Councilman Davis: "There has been a lot before the house tonight which was worth nothing. Now listen to me."

Chairman Belcher: "I will, if it's short."

Councilman Davis: "My prediction that the adoption of our own standards will save Los Angeles county $500,000 in the next year has been verified by experts. That is information I am handing you."

Chairman Belcher: "No one asked for your information."

Councilman Davis: "It might interest them more than some things that have been said tonight."

Chairman Belcher: "There has been no disposition shown toward saving money on street paving in the last year. Why should we expect there to be any in installing lights?"

Last Parting Shot

As Councilman Davis sprang to his feet, some-one yelled, "sit down."

"If you fellows say so, the city won't even bid on the work, "Mr. Davis said, undismayed by "catcalling."

Peter Diederich explained the style of light standards planned, and declared there would be a saving of from $20 to $30 on each standard.

"I thought we weren't going to discuss poles," was the last word from Councilman Davis as the next order of business was passed to.

The alleged destruction of sidewalks along Colorado street between Pacific and Central avenues brought down malediction upon the head of Peter L. Ferry, Glendale contractor.

"The walks were torn up by the contractor's men, and now there are notices being sent to the property owners to have the sidewalks repaired at their own expense within ten days. That is unjust," said Chairman Belcher. Mayor Robinson had "passed the buck" by saying he "didn't know" when questioned in regard to the matter, the chairman alleged.

Ferry and Council

"Who is this man Ferry?" queried E. H. Scott.

"He has more power in Glendale than the City Council has," came back Chairman Belcher. "He can tell the council to do anything and it will be done."

Edward A. Carvel, A. E. Kull, Mrs. Neil and Mrs. M. G. Musser will form a committee to look into the sidewalk matter.

Why some cesspools were being permitted to be dug in the parking ways, while others were forbidden there, was a question raised, but left unanswered, when some one moved to adjourn, and the motion was unanimously carried without discussion, for the first time during the evening.

Tropico Men's Club to Hear Expert Engineer

The Men's club of the Tropico Presbyterian church will enjoy a turkey dinner served at the church tonight. Professor Terrill, of Los Angeles, who recently came from China where he has been in the mining engineering service for the past four years, will be speaker.

Realty Membership Week

California has now eighty-five real estate boards belonging to the National Association of Real Estate Boards. This is by far the largest group of local boards within the national membership from any state. California Realty board membership week is an invitation to every real estate dealer who is ready to subscribe to a code of ethics defining his responsibility to join his local real estate board. As such it is also an invitation for every such real estate dealer to join the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards is the organ of real estate men for uniting the strength and the will for improvement of more than 20,000 active realtors in over 500 local real estate boards in the United States and Canada. Through it every member of a California constituent board is given the advantage of the backing of a nation-wide organization for better methods and better service in the real estate business.

One of the first advantages which membership in a constituent board of the national association brings with it is the right to use the title realtor. This right has a double value, a value to the public, and to the individual real estate dealer.

It is of value to the dealer because it attests that he has been found by his associates in business worthy of being received into the membership of a board which stands for the best in business practices and in community development. It is of value to the public because the name realtor is a pledge. It marks men whose business lives have demonstrated their responsibility and competency.'

Real estate investment is a matter of too much importance to be trusted to the unknown, the irresponsible or the incompetent agent.

LEGION NOTES

San Francisco will seek the 1926 state convention of the American Legion. This decision has been reached by the county council of the legion and the San Francisco Tourists league which is co-operating in the campaign to bring the ex-service men's organization to this city year after next. The two bodies will start immediately to organize a state-wide movement among the legionnaires to pledge the individual posts of the organization to favor San Francisco for 1926.

Every California unit of the Forty and Eight society, the playground organization of the American Legion, is to adopt a Boy Scout troop, following a conference in this city of state officials of the two organizations. The legionnaires are actively cooperating in the Boy Scout movement and many posts of the organization have already provided scoutmasters for the boy troopers.

Formation of local "committees on emergencies" in each community of the state where American Legion posts are located has been ordered by State Commander Nathan F. Coombs. These local committees will be ready at a moment's notice to co-operate with local authorities in case of fires, and disasters of any kind. Already throughout the state, according to Commander Coombs, individual posts have organized for work as in the case of the recent forest fires. The new order from state headquarters will prepare the legion posts for greater community service.

Seth W. B. Strellinger of Hollywood has been recommended to Governor Richardson by State Commander Nathan F. Coombs, as the choice of the legion for membership on the new State Boxing commission. Although the legion did not promote the recently adopted boxing amendment Commander Coombs has urged the governor to name an American Legion man on the commission since many of the posts of his organization are interested in boxing. Strellinger has been active in promoting the boxing contests of Hollywood post of which he is a member. He is declared to be a man of high standing in his community and well qualified for the post.

men. There is no reason why they shouldn't compete in this line as well as in any other.

WILLIAM H. REEVES, Former City Manager—Fine. It suits me. Let her run. I hope she wins.

J. F. McCLISH, Real Estate Broker—I'd just as soon a woman ran California as Texas. There's no reason why the Golden state should run second to the Lone Star state.

P. J. HAYSELDEN, Secretary of the City Planning Commission—The Chamber of Commerce is behind her.

I. T. HOOVER, President of the North Western Avenue Improvement Association—I would have the name of the candidate before expressing an opinion.

KIWANIANS HOSTS TO WOMEN TODAY

Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris Speaks On Higher Things of Life in Business

The greatest drawback to humanity is the tendency to become self-satisfied, to become enswalled and care naught for the balance of the world, Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris told members of the Kiwanis club and their wives at the meeting held today at the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The meeting was attended by the wives of the members. It was the first meeting of its kind held by the club for several months.

The greatest thing in life, Dr. Ferris told the guests, was the possibility of fulfilling the essential part of life, not only for individual self, but for the entire community. Creative genius in business is sadly neglected, the speaker said. Every man should take his personality and ability and place them in a setting of culture, whatever his business, Dr. Ferris said.

Visitors Speak

Fred Porter, president of the Hollywood Kiwanis club, gave a short address in which wit was intermingled with wisdom, and humor replete with Kiwanis principles and purposes. He invited the members of the local club to hold a meeting in Hollywood.

Dr. S. D. Buckley, of Hollywood, new lieutenant governor, who succeeded Fred Deal of Glendale, talked on Kiwanis clubs in the district. He gave some studio gossip about Hollywood.

A. A. Horn won two tickets to today's football game, donated by Coach Normal C. Hayhurst. Mrs. C. M. Calderwood won the pillow donated by George Lyons. The silent boost was donated by Fred B. Walton.

Fred B. Walton

Mrs. Ghrist delighted the guests with several piano solos. She was introduced by Park Arnold, chairman of the program committee. Bert Woodard, chairman of the nomination committee, reported seventeen names had been submitted as candidates for directors.

Mayor Spencer Robinson welcomed the women to the meeting today. For his failure to properly "orate," the mayor paid a fine assessed by President Baird.

Several selections were sung by the club's glee club composed of Park Arnold, John D. Fraser, W. A. Horn, William Bode, Olie Andersen, Dr. Jack Anderson, Eliwood Ingledue, George Lyons, E. P. Hayward. J. Arthur Myers directed the organization, with Mrs. George Lyons at the piano.

MEMORIAL PARK NOW HAS CENTER

Administration Building In Forest Lawn Opened For Service

Adjoining the Little Church of the Flowers which is modeled after the church at Stoke Pogies, England, and in a similar position to that ordinarily occupied by the vicarage of an English country church, the new administration building of Forest Lawn Memorial park has been completed and opened this week as the business headquarters of Forest Lawn service department.

In keeping with its Elizabethan architecture the interior of the administration building has been finished and furnished exactly according to the period it represents with a quantity of period furniture. The furniture includes a large Elizabethan octagonal table built in 1606 for the Worshipful Company of Carpenters of London Wall to be placed in the reception hall, a number of oak benches, chairs, and settees all of the same period and also some of the finest examples of armor yet brought to the United States. Antique glass has been used in the windows depicting scenes from stories familiar to all.

The large entrance hall which has a floor of Mettowee stone is to be used as a public reception room and the upper floor devoted to general offices.

GIBRALTAR FIRM DECLARES PROFIT

Finance Corporation Pays Eight Per Cent, Board Members Named

A quarterly dividend at the rate of 8 per cent per annum on all preferred stock of record December 4, 1924, payable January 1, 1925, was authorized at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Gibraltar Fnance corporation at its offices at 218 South Brand boulevard, last night. Also a payment of interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum will be made at that time on all payments on subscriptions to the preferred stock under the partial payment plan.

This dividend, it is announced, is made possible by the enormous earning power of the corporation, coupled with the fact that no salaries of any kind are paid to the officers of the company. A goodly percentage of the earnings of the concern are, therefore, turned over to the stockholders in the form of a cash dividend. Following prominent citizens of Glendale were elected to the advisory board: Dr. John Anderson, Dr. J. E. Eckles, James P. Apffel and William Lawlor. The addition of these men will strengthen the advisory board, and thereby protect the investments that have been made by hundreds of residents of Glendale and the surrounding country.

DYNAMITERS IN CRUCIAL BATTLE AGAINST ORANGE

Victory Tomorrow Afternoon at Santa Ana Means Possible Chance at State Title; Defeat Will End Season of 1924

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The 1924 heavyweight football season draws near the climax tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock when the local varsity eleven meets the Orange crew on Poly Field at Santa Ana in the semi-final round of the Southern California play-off.

If the Dynamiters emerge victorious it means a game with the winner of the Santa Maria-Compton game if the Southern California trophy is captured for the championship, and a trip north to play the winner of the Oroville-Lodi game for the state championship. On the other hand a defeat for the locals means their last game this year.

Coach Hayhurst will be handicapped because of the possibility of Captain Dick Ryan being unable to play. Ryan injured his ankle during the Colton game and he has been bothered with it this week. If he does play it probably will not be for any length of time. Jack Booker is to fill Ryan's shoes at the halfback position.

Denney to Start

Both Elmer Muff and Carl Denney, who starred against the Coyotes, will be seen in action tomorrow. Denney played an unequaled game on the defensive, backing up the line and smashing Colton's aerial attack. Elmer Muff proved himself a useful man on the offensive and played a nice game at safety, taking back punts anywhere from ten to forty yards.

Bud Elliott will call signals as usual. With Ryan out, the burden of the end runs will fall upon Muff and Elliott who, though rather light, are very capable ballpackers on Glendale's end over formation. Carl Denney will probably do most of the line smashing.

Ellsworth de Parcq will not start at end but nevertheless will get into a good part of the game. Droopy Phillips is Hayhurst's choice to begin the game at right end. Bill Bradbury will do Glendale's punting and will play right tackle. Dixon Fannon is to start at right guard. The remainder of the line will be the same as usual, Cecil Zaun at center, Marion Morrison at guard, Lewis Dotson at tackle, and Les Lavelle on right end.

Practice Kicking

The Dynamiters have been touching up their weak points during the week and may surprise the local fans by scoring the point after touchdown for a change. Had the heavyweights a place-kicker like Johnny Lovell, they would stand a better chance of copping a string of titles. Bud Elliott, who place kicks for the heavyweights, is fair, but seldom puts the ball over outside of the thirty yard mark.

Johnny Lovell, on the other hand, is a natural kicker, and is a one-to-two shot within the forty yard mark. Within the thirty he is deadly.

Some work has also been done on the local aerial attack and the Dynamiters may spring something in the way of passes.

Bear Yarns Plenty

As soon as it was determined that Glendale would meet Orange in the semi-finals, a series of bear yarns de luxe have been emulating from the home of the Berg tribe. It started when Orange had the Sweetwater game all sewed up, for Coach Berg announced that he was sending in his second string to save his first string men from further injuries, so they could be in the best of shape to meet Glendale.

Next it was announced that Wulff, stellar halfback of the Orange team, is suffering from a fractured shoulder. Ralph Lloyd, left guard, was the next man to be put on the injured list, being followed by Bill Ralph, according to reports from Orange. After all these bear yarns, the old standby and time-honored ones, "team going stale," and "in too fine condition," were dusted off and dished out to the reading public.

The Dynamiters are turning a deaf ear to these bear yarns, and are going to Santa Ana tomorrow prepared to put up the battle of their young careers, for upon tomorrow's contest rests the possibilities of Glendale getting into the finals for the Southern California title, and a possible crack at the state crown.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Dec. 5.—The physical condition of Notre Dame players as the result of their long hard schedule, together with climatic conditions and long train ride to California, will be important factors in their game at Pasadena against Stanford on New Year's.

Notre Dame has a beautifully rounded football machine and although Layden is out right now with a strained ligament the chances are he will be O K for the Stanford game. Stuhldreher, of Notre Dame, is one of the cleverest quarterbacks on the gridiron and he knows how to use Knute Rockne's machine with the greatest efficiency. Crowley, Miller and Cerney who take Layden's place are all first class backfield men—Crowley probably a shade the best.

In the standpoint of physique the Notre Dame line is none too heavy and the pounding with a powerful weighty backfield that Stanford will give it may possibly give Rockne's linesmen more to do than they can stand.

The writer expects to see Notre Dame's defense against forward passing cope better with Stanford's throwing of the ball than did California but still some of these long, clever passes of Warder's may get through.

There is nothing to choose between the two teams in the kicking game. Notre Dame's ends, however, are particularly clever in interference on running plays and will give Stanford's ends and tackles something to think about.

Should Notre Dame strike warm weather in Pasadena the writer's opinion is that a good deal of their pep and ginger will disappear.

The K. C. winter baseball league will open Sunday, with the Glendale team meeting the Hollywood Knights at the former White Sox ball park on San Fernando road at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The fact that the grandstand and clubhouse was burned last Sunday will not halt the game, Harry Manush, manager, announced today. Santa Ana will meet Long Beach and Los Angeles Council No. 621 plays Manchester Heights. The Glendale lineup will be practically the same as followed in previous games.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Those who are interested in western conference athletics are wondering what is going to pop, as the saying is, at the annual meeting of big ten football and baseball coaches in Chicago this coming week end.

What new faces will be seen in western football camps next fall? For the big ten meeting is more than a conference confab; it is a forum for the arrangement of all the more important games, tentative engagement of coaches and so on and so on. Loitering about the lobbies of the hotels will be found scores of representatives of colleges not affiliated with the western conference.

Of course A. A. Stagg, the grand old man of western football—will be back at Chicago. Never has he shown greater ability as a teacher and inspirer than this year.

And Zuppke, despite rumors to the contrary heard throughout the land, will be at the helm of the good ship Illinois.

Rockne will of course remain at Notre Dame, his chief interest now being in advising Adam Walsh and Stuhldreher, as well as other men who will be graduated from the South Bend college, what offers they shall select in the way of coaching jobs.

The bids which Walsh and Stuhldreher alone have received would fill a mail box. And likely enough they will go as Rockne directs.

As to Yost. Well Yost has feathered himself a nice little nest at Ann Arbor where he may claim—if he so desires—the credit for Wolverine victories and place the blame for defeats—if he so desires—upon the devoted head of George Little, the football coach.

Jack Ryan, the former Dartmouth star, has had a bad season at Wisconsin, a very bad season and victory hungry Badgers may call for his scalp. Indeed, there are rumors of a radical shakeup in the Wisconsin camp. But investigation would show that Ryan has had to face problems of great magnitude.

And at Minnesota Wolf cries are heard concerning Bill Spaulding. He was riding high the week after the Gophers despoiled Illinois, but subsequent defeat by Vanderbilt carried minds of his critics back to defeats by Iowa and Michigan and the tie with Wisconsin. Spaulding may weather the storm and if he does he may be relied upon to develop a Northwoods terror at Minneapolis. Like Ryan, Spaulding has had more to meet than the problem of developing a football eleven. There are ancient heritages of bitterness at both Madison and Minneapolis.

Burt Ingwerson, when he left Illinois as Zuppke's assistant to take over the reins at Iowa, signed only a year contract. Buthe has done so well with the Hawkeyes that undoubtedly he will be approached with a contract calling for a term of years.

Glenn Thistlethwaite has not had the brilliant success at Northwestern that he had in Chicago secondary school circles, but this season he showed more than faint signs of coming into his own and undoubtedly he will be retained. Purdue seems well satisfied with Jimmy Phelan. The boilermakers had a fairly successful year and but for a string of injuries would have done better than they did.

Ohio State is a big enough institution to take defeats philosophically and Dr. Wilce will stay on if he cares to, although there are rumors that his alma mater, Wisconsin, is reaching out for him. But Wilce is happy and well placed in more ways than one at Columbus. Bill Ingram can stay at Indiana if he wishes to remain. But they say he is quite disappointed at the way his material worked for him. Jimmy Ashmore has dropped out at Depauw and it is rumored that Pete Vaughan, veteran coach at Wabash, may retire voluntarily. Pat Page will stay at Butler and Earl Shadean at Valparaiso. Fred Dawson is set at Nebraska—unless he is called to Princeton.

Algeria is buying more plows than in the past.

SPEED AND POWER CLASH NEW YEAR'S

Pop Warner's Cardinals Will Have Chance to Nail Champion Title

By DON LIEBENDORFER
Written for The Evening News.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 5.—The two greatest football coaching systems in the United States will clash when Stanford and Notre Dame meet in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena New Year's Day. Power—the grinding, crushing, irresistible offensive of "Pop" Warner's team will be pitted against the speed and precision required in the famous Notre Dame shift of Knute Rockne.

The contest should bring out some of the best football ever seen on the Pacific coast. Although the colorful Catholic aggregation relies mainly on speed, it is by no means without a punch. On the other hand, that the Cards do not have to bank entirely on straight football to gain ground was proved in the California-Stanford game when Warner's team scored two touchdowns in the last five minutes of play on forward passes. The defenses of both teams have been severely tested and found most capable.

Neither Team Defeated

Neither team has been defeated and the winner will have a strong claim on the football championship of the United States. Stanford's chances to take the South Benders into camp will depend largely on whether or not Ernie Nevers and Norman Cleaveland will be able to play. The former was kept out of the big game with a cracked ankle bone and Cleaveland was declared ineligible. Never's physician says that the big fullback will be in shape to perform and investigation may prove Cleaveland eligible. These two men would greatly strengthen the Cardinal backfield.

TO-NIGHT'S CARD

Joe Benjamin, who thinks he is entitled to a crack at Benny Leonard's crown, will demonstrate his ability tonight at Hollywood American Legion stadium when he meets Spud Myers in the main event of a top-heavy card. The winner of tonight's battle will have a chance to meet Tommy Carter, Pacific coast lightweight champion, in a ten-round battle as soon as the new boxing law becomes effective. Nick Newman and Kay Neuman, heavyweights, will mix in the semi-windup. Billy Hart and Frank Grandeyya appear in the special spot. Other bouts will be: Paul Duarte and Roy Edwards, Johnny Grella and Sailor Ackerman, Joe Dunn and Bobby Bridges, and Ewell Paul and Joe Levinthal.

Gibbons In Shape for Battle With Norfolk

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Tom Gibbons will weigh fewer than 175 pounds when he steps out to meet Kid Norfolk in the Christmas fund show in Madison Square Garden December 9, according to a statement made today by his manager, Eddie Kane. He declared Gibbons was in his best condition of recent years. The sale of tickets for the show has exceeded that of any previous set of bouts held here this season.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Syracuse-Trojan tilt tomorrow should give the dopesters a real slant on Glumy Gus Henderson's team. That setback Trojans got when little St. Mary's tumbled them to the loser's end of the score card, set dopesters figuring just what kind of a team sunny end of California's big universities had. Then Trojans come back and put the slap on Idaho. They played U. C. to a 7-0 finish in Berkeley earlier.

Syracuse, although not rated a real leader in pig-skin pastime played some good football. Syracuse always played good football. Since the days of Buck O'Neill the big Orange eleven has been up in the running.

If Trojans beat Orange eleven they will have a lot to crow about. If they don't they won't have a leg to stand on when it comes to an argument on leadership football. No one will doubt that both Bears and Cardinals have better teams—far better teams to date. But a win over Syracuse will change this opinion.

Likewise with Stanford-Notre Dame squabble. Stanford, we rate, a far better team than U. C., despite the dramatic tie hung up in Berkeley at the annual game. That tie score don't really tell the story of the game. Stanford scored six points before Bears had started. Bears woke up and went ahead of Stanford in scoring. Stanford came from behind and tied the score before game finished. That means something. And this in face of Stanford star Cleaveland on the sidelines.

We can't see a chance of Stanford winning over Knute Rockne's men New Year's. And we give old Pop Warner credit for being able to do the impossible. If Rockne's Irishmen haven't gone A. W. O. L. and broken training and IF the same team that trimmed Princeton and all rest of the boys east takes the field in Pasadena, Notre Dame should be winner by, at least, 20 points.

L. A. can't even let Charlie Chaplin alone after he's married and everything. L. A. ran itself ragged trying to marry Charlie. Now that he's married they want to send his 16-year-old bride back to school.

That's what Charlie gets for being popular. That's what the former Miss Grey gets for marrying a comedian. If Miss Grey had married a bricklayer or a hod-carrier she could tell the world she was 16 and—who'd care? Poor Charlie—he can't even hide himself away in a 40-room house. Wonder what would happen if he lived in one of these disappearing bungalow suites that shove back in wall when Big Ben rings.

Who said this isn't a democracy! 'Cal' called off his eight o'clock breakfast party and took a rattler for the Windy City where he will see the cattle do their stuff at the annual show. No private car for 'Cal.' Just a plain Pullman. What will the Senate do and where will the boys have breakfast while 'Cal' is gone?

Prince of Wales who will some day tell Ramsay MacDonald what a punk premier he made in advising his dad, went 'Cal' one better. He stood on the sidelines at the International polo games on Long Island, rooted like high school boy and then stayed up all night letting Long Island's elite step on his toes.

Bob La Follette may have been on the wrong side of the fense last election but he sure did prove himself a good sport when Senate opened for annual short term conversation battle.

Country was told in flaring headlines that stormy petrel from Wisconsin was thrown bodily out of G. O. P. conference. Didn't have a look in. Senate boys stood around with clinched fists waiting for Bob to start a fight when session opened. Bob, instead, grabbed the boys by the mitt and smiled "glad to see you."

L. A. police no sooner got into the midst of speed demon cleanup than more murders were committed than speeders arrested. Within thirty days nine murders developed and all of 'em with accent on the mysterious.

Most mysterious of all was the passing out of 'Hard Hearted Hannah' or 'Babe'. If victim had family name no one knows it. 'Hard Hearted Hannah's life was snuffed out, remains put in trunk and shipped to Seattle. From what we know of Seattle that's where all hard hearted people go or should go.

'Hannah' breathed her last in a hotel in downtown L. A. What hotel no one knows. That seems to be the most mysterious item in account of tragedy. If L. A. police can only learn name of hotel in which the 'hard hearted' Babe was sheltered for last time alive, maybe, they believe, they can solve the mystery.

'Muggsy McGraw just returned from a tough job. He tried to convince Gay Paree and Dear Ol' London that baseball really was a game. English cousins got dizzy trying to keep track of horsehide pellet.

Boxing Champ Faces Paying Double Income

MANILA, Dec. 5.—Although Pancho Villa, world's flyweight boxing champion, is one of the national heroes in the Philippines, he must pay an income tax to his native islands, even though he has already a tax elsewhere for the same income.

Pancho says he doesn't mind paying a tax of this kind once, but that to pay it twice is not so good. He claims he already has squared himself income taxwise with Uncle Sam in the United States, but that now Philippine officials are after him for a duplication of that payment for the local treasury.

Schaefer Leading In Billiard Title Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Willie Hoppe, world's champion 18.2 balk line billiards player, will have to do better than he has been doing very recently if he expects to retain his title. In the continuation last night of a 6400 point match with Jake Schaefer, former champion and again challenger for the title, Hoppe was trailing Jake by not a slight margin.

Insurance policies that pay $1000 in case of death in a train wreck within twenty-four hours are now sold for 5 cents by slot machines.

Frenchman couldn't leave Montmartre long enough to try. Couldn't be bothered. Frenchy gets more of a kick out of seeing how little he can put into a ballroom dress and still have a dress.

When Frenchy gets through with the 'latest model' it looks like the piece of the hobo's pants left with watchdog. He worries all season on how to put less in a dress than Eve did. He should worry about 'Muggsy.'

Getting back to 'Muggsy'. He ain't discouraged. No-sir-ree. But he ain't going to give Frenchy another chance to make dresses while he's playing ball. Next year he's going to take his giant killers to Brazil and other parts of South America.

When some of those Amazon flappers hit the bleachers and see Long George Kelly stretch over half of Brazil to grab a hot one down first station line, those babies will flap right out from under Nature's B. V. D.'s.

'Muggsy' doesn't want to make any money. He just wants to spread the gospel of underworld series. Page Billy Sunday.

TRAFFIC BREAKER SENDS HIS CHECK

San Dimas Citizen Tells Judge Lowe He Agrees To Penalty

Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court suffered a severe shock when he opened his mail this morning, finding a letter from J. E. Calkins of San Dimas, enclosing a check for a traffic violation and actually saying that he was doing so "with entire cheerfulness." The letter follows:

"I herewith enclose my check for $5, to cover penalty due the city of Glendale as per tag attached.

"Mrs. Calkins and I drove from our home in San Dimas directly to Glendale, yesterday morning, for the express purpose of doing a little Christmas buying, as she prefers the better service of the Glendale stores to the rush of the larger city.

Neglects Precaution

"In seeking a parking-place I did not observe any traffic signs, though I must have passed at least one on Brand boulevard. However, as I was sure I should not leave the car standing for more than half an hour, I neglected my usual precaution of inquiring as to the parking limit.

"The next thing was to grow so interested in the pursuit of bargains as to forget all about car, limits and everything, even lunch. Dinner was over an hour when we suddenly remembered that we had probably violated your traffic ordinance, and returned to our car, to find it tagged.

"Inasmuch as I recognize your traffic ordinance as not only fair and reasonable, but also necessary, and fully approve of the enforcement of all such proper regulations, and clearly understood that I am wholly in the wrong, I am making this surrender with entire cheerfulness, and also with the assurance that it will not hinder me coming to Glendale hereafter when in quest of purchases—only the next time I shall try hard not to violate your city law.

Praises Policeman

"I feel that I should acknowledge my high appreciation of the gentlemanly courtesy of your desk sergeant, to whom I made return of this tag, and from whom I obtained information as to my next move. In a world that is so largely lacking in courtesy, especially in minor officials, it is fairly worth $5 to find a police officer whose manner, in handling a bunch of malefactors, is that of a gentleman, and one who is anxious to serve rather than to make a show of authority."

The drive against parking over an hour in the business district started Tuesday, December 2, when there were forty-four arrests according to records in Judge Lowe's office. Wednesday the number of violators dropped to twenty-three, and yesterday there were but twelve motorists caught napping, a total of seventy-nine cases, most of which will be heard Monday morning, December 8, in the Glendale police court, if the violators wish to plead instead of pay.

CHAPTER XXVII

"Are five thousand pounds apiece any use to you young fellows?" Blunn asked, addressing them both.

Neither of them answered. They could only stare.

"Get down to your engine room, start up and head this yacht back for Monte Carlo," Blunn continued, "and the money is yours."

"Without Mr. Slattery's orders?" the officer of the watch gasped.

"Mr. Slattery, at the moment, is not in a position to give orders," was the terse reply.

"What about my chief?" the engineer demanded.

"He is in the same position. You have the run of the ship for a time. Do as I say and I swear before God you shall have the money."

"The devil!" the mate exclaimed. "I thought there was some queer work afoot. What's wrong with Mr. Slattery?"

"Nothing serious," Blunn assured them. "I have locked him up. He is trying to play a trick on us. It is perfectly fair and just to defend ourselves. He is endeavoring to keep up from land before dawn. We are determined to get there, somehow or other. It is five thousand apiece. There's some fun to be got in the world for five thousand, you know."

"I'm on, anyway," the second engineer decided. "We can't be getting any one into bad trouble."

"You will not be getting anyone into trouble at all," Blunn declared. "My friend here is Baron Funderstrom, Scandinavian delegate to the Nice Conference. All Mr. Slattery is trying to do is to prevent his attending the meeting tomorrow morning, for political reasons. We intend that he shall be there."

"But what's become of my chief?" his subordinate asked anxiously.

"Locked up in his own room," was the blunt reply, "and the captain with him. That can't last long, I know, but it won't take us very long either to get back to Monaco, with a full head of steam on."

"All right," the officer of the watch announced. "I'll take her in charge. We've scarcely any sail on her now. We'll get rid of that directly. Five thousand pounds each, mind!"

"It is a bargain," Blunn assured them.

They disappeared in different directions. Blunn, followed by Funderstrom, his silent and almost ghostly shadow, strolled along the deck. Away aft Rose Lancaster and her brother, Susan and Gertrude were still laughing and talking. Susan looked up as they approached.

"Where's every one?" she asked curiously. "They all seem to have gone to sleep."

"Where is Mr. Slattery?" Gertrude demanded. "And what have you done with my husband?"

"They are all trying to solve the problem of this slight breakdown," Blunn explained. "It seems to be a more intricate affair than we thought."

"I don't care when we get back," Susan declared recklessly. "I've been to look at the cabins downstairs, and I never dreamed of such luxury in my life."

"Odd thing about Slattery, though," Lancaster observed. "Is he really down in the engine room?"

"I left him there," Blunn told them. "Like every owner, I believe he fancies that his presence encourages les autres."

"By Jove, it has, too!" the young man exclaimed. "Can't you hear the thud? The engine's started."

There was a chorus of exclamations. Susan rose from her place and glided unnoticed to the other side of the deck.

Susan passed unseen down the companionway and into the saloon. A single steward was there, busy at the sideboard.

"Where are all the others?" she enquired.

"They are having supper, your ladyship."

"Do you know where Mr. Slattery is?"

"He is in his room with another gentleman."

Susan hesitated for a moment and then continued on her passage through the saloon. The man deferentially but effectively barred the way.

"If your ladyship will excuse me," he said, "Mr. Slattery gave instructions that he was not to be disturbed."

"You're telling me a lie," she answered promptly. "Mr. Slattery gave no such orders."

The man faltered.

"Well, the gentleman with him did, your ladyship."

"That isn't at all the same thing," Susan declared. "Stand aside, please."

The man hesitated. He was a somewhat undersized person, and Susan, just then, felt herself possessed with the strength of half a dozen such. She swept him on one side, and passed along the passage beyond the saloon. At the second door, which she knew to be Grant's, she paused, knocked in vain and then tried the handle.

"Who is there?" Grant's voice enquired.

"Curse you, shut up!" Von Diss muttered angrily.

"Grant, is apything wrong?" Susan called out.

"A great deal," he answered, "and you seem to have been the only person with common sense enough to find out. Can you get hold of Captain Martin and tell him there is mutiny on the ship? I'm locked in here."

PITTS PLAYERS

"The Crimson Nemesis" concontinues at the tent theater of Pitts Players, corner of San Fernando boulevard and Cedar street, Burbank. This is gripping melodrama and really good comedy, adroitly combined into a play of marked entertainment value. The curtain rises 8:15 o'clock nightly.

The management assures all patrons that ample parking space for cars has been provided and that the tent has many special features for the comfort of those who desire to see a play under the most advantageous circumstances.

The cast comprises a talented group of artists who have already won the hearts of Glendale and Burbank theater-goers with their excellent production of "The Fortune Hunter." Seeing Pitts Players is becoming a popular nightly pastime of hundreds of local people.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Mamma's Affair," from the pen of Rachel Barton Butler, continues at the Tuesday Afternoon club theater, with Gertrude Keller in the leading role. Miss Butler, the author, was once a student in Professor Baker's celebrated "English 47" class at Harvard university. The play was selected from among fifty as the most worthy to receive the prize of $500 offered by Oliver Morosco for the best play of the year.

The play is presented by the Dobinson Players, with a full professional cast. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Kellar's part is that of a selfish mother who prides herself on her great love for her daughter, yet who invariably thinks first of herself.

Joseph McManus, an actor of prominence, both here and in the east, portrays the role of Dr. Jansen, whose candid diagnosis of wealthy neurotics is severe, is a character of perfect interpretation, and his scenes with Eve Orrin hold the audience spellbound.

THE GATEWAY

James Oliver Curwood one of the country's best writers of northern stories has often stated that in writing "The Alaskan" he has given the northern country one of its best portrayals. "The Alaskan" which is now showing at the Gateway Theater is probably one of the greatest films that Thomas Meighan has starred in. It is a vivid, absorbing story of the new empire in the far north which is beginning to come into its own.

THE T. D. & L.

Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water" continues at T. D. & L. Theater.

THE GLENDALE

Viola Dana in "Seeing's Believing" opens today at the Glendale Theater.

In non-infected localities, eight per cent of the animal deaths from all causes is due to tuberculosis.

EVENING GOWNS

PARIS, Dec. 5.—Many evening gowns are taking on a decidedly bizarre appearance. One, in black satin, is conventionally slim and straight. But at the hem it has a ripply ruffle of dark red ostrich and on the front—near the neck and near the hem—it has just two embroidered roses of enormous size.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BOB CAT'S BUTTON

The Bob Cat, sitting in his dismal den, was twisting and turning around, trying to see his silly little tail in the looking glass, when suddenly he heard a noise outside.

"Goodness," whispered the Bob Cat, "I hope that isn't Uncle Wiggily coming with the Police Dog to arrest my fine tail." For though his tail was only a little one, the foolish Bob Cat was very proud of it. He looked from the window, but didn't see Uncle Wiggily or the Police Dog. Instead he saw the Fox and the Wolf, and the Wolf was crying big tears.

"What's the matter?" asked the Bob Cat.

"Oh, we had bad luck," barked the Fox.

"You mean I had the bad luck," growled the Wolf. "My eyes are full of red pepper. Oh, Gazinka."

"How did it happen?" asked the Bob Cat, and then the bad chaps told him how they had tried to play a jumping trick on the bunny rabbit, as you read in the story last night.

"Ha, ha," laughed the Bob Cat. "I should think you two would know that isn't the way to catch a rabbit and nibble his ears."

"Do you know a better way?" asked the Wolf, rubbing some vaseline in his smarting eyes.

"Of course I do," mewed the Bob Cat, wagging his silly little tail. "Tomorrow I shall show you."

So the next day the Bob Cat, leaving his friends the Fox and Wolf in his den, set out for Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"I shall play a clever trick on that rabbit and bring him back here with me so we may all nibble his ears," boasted the Bob Cat. And over the fields and through the woods he ran until he reached the place where Uncle Wiggily lived.

Boldly the Bob Cat knocked on the bunny's door.

"What do you want?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "I'm not afraid of you now, for I can telephone for a Police Dog if you try to bite me."

"I'm not going to bite you," promised the Bob Cat. "At least now," he said to himself. "But will you please come to my den?" he asked the rabbit. "My little boy Bob Cat has a terrible pain, and if you will come and bring some paregoric I'm sure you can cure it."

Now Uncle Wiggily was kind hearted and loved children, even little Bob Cats, though he didn't like big ones. So he said:

"Why of course I'll come and help little Bobbie." But while Uncle Wiggily was getting the bottle of paregoric the bunny happened to think that perhaps the Bob Cat might be playing a trick as the Fox and Wolf tried. "But I'll get ahead of him," chuckled the rabbit. "I'll play a trick first." So, going into the room where the Bob Cat sat, Uncle Wiggily said:

"Oh, Mr. Bob Cat. There's a button off your coat. I couldn't think of hopping out with you when you haven't all your buttons."

"Never mind one button being off," purred the Bob Cat.

"Oh, but I do mind," laughed the bunny. "It will only take me a minute to sew a button on for you." So Uncle Wiggily got a needle, some thread and a button. "Now sit still," he said to the hungry Bob Cat and then, all of a sudden, instead of sewing on the button, Uncle Wiggily jabbed the needle in the bad chap.

"Wowchie! Wow!" howled the Bob Cat, jumping up.

"Sit still," said the bunny, jabbing in the needle again.

"Sit still. How can I sit still when something is sticking me?" howled the bad chap. "Ouch! Wow!" he cried as he felt the needle again. "Never mind about that button and never mind about coming to my den. You are too smart for me." And so howling out of the door ran the foolish Bob Cat.

"Well, I guess he won't nibble my ears today," laughed the bunny, as he put the needle back on Nurse Jane's cushion. And if the corkscrew doesn't try to bore a hole through the sugar cookie to get the raisin out, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the dusting brush.

House Is Investigated By Health Department

A visit by Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department and Dr. G. Kaemmerling of the health department, yesterday afternoon, to the house at the northwest corner of Broadway and Kenwood street, was the aftermath of a fire that threatened these premises Tuesday night, December 2.

After an examination, Mrs. E. A. Hoddy, the occupant, was ordered to clean up the house, which according to Dr. Kaemmerling, is in an unsanitary condition. Chief Fraser ordered her to dispose of the majority of her eighteen white cats, which have caused complaints by neighbors and have spread extravagant stories through the neighborhood.

Is Age Controlled By Vital Glands?

Modern Application of Well-known Scientific Principles Which Involve Gland Stimulation Often Restores the Buoyancy of Youth and the Thrill That Can Only Come from Rich, Red Blood Coursing Through the Entire Body.

Which One Is Dad?

Only when the glands feed the blood with their vital secretions can men retain their youth and vigor. Science has now discovered a way to nourish the glands.

You do not have to lose vigor of precious youth before your time, for by properly stimulating to normal action the vital glands of your body, you may regain strength, pick up weight and lose that tired, nervous, exhausted feeling which is not only known to you but shows in your face and physical appearance.

Scientific authorities now claim that the cause of disease and premature old age is often due to inactive and undernourished glands. Dr. Serge Voronoff of France says, "A man is worth only as much as his glands." Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands, "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Many men who have allowed themselves to become prematurely old, weak and run-down, both physically and mentally, are taking scientific glandular treatment to help regain youthful vitality, strength and health—Glandogen, which is a highly concentrated, laboratory tested gland compound in simple, compact, tablet form, combining vital glands of healthy young animals with other efficacious ingredients. What science has done for others it should do for you. Make this ten-day test: Take two Glandogen tablets three times a day for ten days, then see for yourself if you don't feel stronger and better in every way.

Do not be satisfied with any so-called gland pill—insist on Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Ahlmann Drug Co. will supply you. Mail orders accepted. —Advertisement.

Cool Weather Is Aid To Syracuse Warriors

cuse mentor confided to the bell boy, who handed him red hot coffee.

After sipping his java, Meehan ordered out his charges. The Orangemen appeared in sweaters brighter than the most glorious of the state's famed orange groves. For an hour they frisked about the hotel's sunken gardens, loosening up for a light workout this afternoon, while the western team was scheduled to practice on another field across the city.

Johnny McBride, fullback, the "triple threat" of the invaders, said he was as fit as Douglas Fairbanks and ready to do anything with his good and trusty toe.

After arriving here late yesterday the New Yorkers accepted several keys to the city from Mayor George Cryer and then hurried to the gridiron at the Coliseum for a brief, secret practice.

With Captain Simmons holding the ball, McBride smacked over eight place kicks from the thirty yard line and twenty from the seventeen yard streak.

Meehan said the eastern navels were in great shape despite their long hop across the continent. Three days of practice under the desert sun of New Mexico warmed them up for California weather and promised coolness today and tomorrow thrilled them to the point of true fitness.

"Gloomy Gus" Hendersen, coach of the westerners, had nothing to say. He wouldn't even venture to guess on the weather or the outcome of tomorrow's clash.

Auto Accidents Laid To Three Big Causes

child as soon as he is able to walk and should be constantly continued at home and at school.

"There is mutual responsibility and mutual penalty. Many suffer in every accident besides those immediately involved. It is only by accepting responsbility that walkers and drivers can keep out of court, out of jail, out of the hospital and out of the clutches of remorse for avoidable accidents."

It is not only in traffic that accidents have increased of late years. Industrial accidents have risen 29 per cent for the country as a whole since 1911. In Wisconsin where exceptional work has been done toward assuring safety in industry the increase in the last year has been 25 per cent. Investigation reveals similar conditions elsewhere. C. W. Price, vice-president of the Elliott Service company, said today that it was evident there had been a marked slump in interest in safety among workmen, foremen and managers.

Immediate Efforts

"The immediate effect of this has been an extraordinary increase in the frequency and severity of accidents. Industrial executives are practically unanimous in declaring that the difficulty of keeping interest alive is due to lack of intensified educational work in safety measures.

"In the early days of the safety movement at least one-third of the accidents could be prevented by mechanical means but such progress has been made in equipment that not more than 10 per cent can now be eliminated mechanically."

Mr. Price also stressed the necessity of mutual responsibility and co-operation extending from executives and superintendents to foremen and workers and urged a widepsread campaign of education which would embody in it a human and personal touch bringing home to all the effect of accidents on themselves and others.

It is certain the conference called by Secretary Hoover in Washington December 15 to 17 will recommend passage of rigid laws licensing automobile drivers and the impounding of vehicles where damage results from traffic law violations.

Economy Record Gives 'Cal' Place in History

not yet "permanently on a prosperous basis" and hopes the new agricultural commission will report relief measures for enactment at this session especially with reference to the cattle industry.

Mr. Coolidge thinks Muscle Shoals should be sold to the best bidder so as to develop the plants there for the production of nitrates for the farmer and he stressed again the value of his policy of consolidation of railways as a means of cutting down freight rates. Also the president thinks consolidation by equalizing railway earnings will remove much of the criticism of the famous 15-A section of the transportation act which permits the roads to earn a certain amount on their valuation.

Labor Question

In respect to the labor clauses of the transportation act, Mr. Coolidge strikes a middle ground between the labor groups which want the controversies settled by boards of conciliation and voluntary arbitration, and the insistence of the railroads that unless the present law can be improved upon the country had better keep on with the railroad labor board. Mr. Coolidge does inject the thought that in these local boards the public shall have representation, which, of course, was one of the points on which the Howell-Barkley bill was criticized in the last session of Congress.

As for the shipping board, the president disclosed by inference some of the controversies which have been smouldering between the Emergency Fleet corporation and the shipping board. The plan worked out last year by which the functions of each were to be delineated has been a failure because not specifically authorized by law and now Mr. Coolidge calls for the needed legislation. It will mean a fight in Congress as the policy of the Senate and House on this question is far from crystallized.

In the field of foreign relations, the president reveals nothing that has not been known before about his policy except in one respect. He has written one sentence which has a world of meaning in it and which may not be to the liking of the ultra-preparedness group in American politics. He it is:

Foreign Policy

"Our country has definitely relinquished the old standard of dealing with other countries by terror and force and is definitely committed to the new standard of dealing with them through friendship and understanding."

The so-called pacifists will be happy over that utterance for Mr. Coolidge adds significantly:

"This new policy should be constantly kept in mind by the guiding forces of the army and navy, by the Congress and by the country at large. I believe it holds a promise of great benefit to humanity. I shall resist any attempt to resort to the old methods and the old standards."

The president says then he is anxious to have foreign nations thoroughly understand this and remarks that when America has training maneuvers on land and sea, he wishes "every nation to understand that this does not express any unfriendliness or convey any hostile intent."

Mr. Coolidge, in that sentence, is talking to Japan where of late much criticism has has been expressed in the press about the proposed manuevres of the American fleet in and around Hawaii and the Pacific generally. He also speaks a thought for the cause of internationalism when he says he wants the armed forces of America to be considered "as the contribution which is made by this country for the maintenance of the peace and security of the world."

World Court Stand

It was expected that Mr. Coolidge would renew his proposal that America enter the world court and he did. He refers to further disarmament conferences by suggesting that America await the outcome of the proposals being made by the other governments for a European conference presumably on land armament and after that he wants to see the naval armament limited still further as contemplated by the last Washington conferences.

Mr. Coolidge talks to Europe when he says the terms and conditions of paying the war debts owed America "may have to conform to difficulties of financial abilities of countries concerned but the principle that each country should meet its obligation admits of no difficulties and is of universal application."

In concluding, the president put himself definitely on record as looking "with sympathetic interest" on all proposals that contemplate the outlawry of aggressive war and the maintenance of peace. This will gratify Senator Borah and the peace element in America which have been agitating the subject for the last six years.

On the whole the message is the kind of document the great majority of people who supported Mr. Coolidge in the last election probably wanted him to write, a message without radical departure from established policies either at home or abroad but with an emphasis of economy in expenditure and the measures that may be taken for the improvement of the entire economic condition of the country.

the hands of an official less sympathetic with radio science than Hoover and that a chaotic condition would be precipitated.

For this reason White, backed by his committee, stands for a new radio bill.

Department of commerce officials are particularly opposed to a provision of the White bill saying that licenses for broadcasting shall not be granted to radio monopolies. They assert this provision leaves to the department the determination of what is a monopoly.

"Another provision prohibiting issuance of broadcasting licenses "except in the public interest," is opposed by the department, according to members of the House committee.

Civic Bodies Protest Underworld King Free

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—State and civic bodies today were joining in their efforts to resist the fight for freedom being carried to the White House in Washington in behalf of "Pete" McDonough, alleged "king of the San Francisco underworld," who was found guilty and sentenced to jail for violation of the prohibition law.

Protests against presidential action which may result in the freeing of McDonough were said to have been mailed and wired to Washington by the church federation of San Francisco and the women's committee of 5000, a statewide organization which took a prominent part in the passage of the Wright act, California's prohibition enforcement law. Other similar organizations are said to be preparing to follow suit.

Gentlemen:-
I have tried out, amongst twenty-five or twenty-six other sets, your Gilfillan Neutrodyne Radio Receiving Set for four or five days. I wish to commend you upon this set. The finish, the detail work, appearance and electrical construction and finish as designed is very attractive. The set is quite selective, running within six or eight blocks of a 500 watt broadcasting station. The quality is most excellent, and the range is as good as any set I have been able to find.
I can certainly recommend this set to my friends.
Yours very truly,
Earle C. Anthony
